Site Clearance Work Starts at GE Next Week

Work will start next week on clearing the site for the local General Electric plant expansion program. E. P. Coady & Co., Inc., Columbus was awarded the contract for site clearance, which consists of relocating some existing manufacturing and building service facilities which must be moved prior to construction of plant addition.

In charge of the upcoming $2,500,000 expansion program will be resident engineer W. J. Sullivan. He will be in Circleville for a year to 18 months. Sullivan, married, with one child, comes to Circleville from Somerset, Ky., where he was resident engineer for construction of GE's sealed-beam glass plant. He is from General Electric's real estate and construction operation in Schenectady, N. Y. It was announced today that bids are currently being sought for structural steel for the expansion and the general contract will be submitted to bidders in about two weeks and will be awarded in June.

Ike Schedules Goodwill Visit to Canada Next July

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will visit Ottawa next July in a personal bid to tighten U. S. relations with Canada, this country's nearest NATO ally and best customer.

The White House announced Friday that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit the Canadian capital July 8-10. They will be accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles on what was officially described as an informal trip.

The schedule is expected to allow time for full scale policy talks

Lock of Hair May Be Key To Mystery

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A lock of hair may hold a clue to the disappearance of little Kathy Hampton.

The 6-year-old girl has been missing since Wednesday. A painstaking search of abandoned buildings, alleys and sewers in the run-down neighborhood around her home has turned up no trace of her.

The possibility that a lock of hair might provide a key to her fate arose after Mrs. Laura Hamersmidt, operator of a suburban beauty shop, reported Friday a child bearing a close resemblance to photographs of Kathy was in the shop Thursday.

The child's shoulder-length hair was cut short at the direction of a woman companion, Mrs. Hamersmidt said.

Police took hair from the beauty shop and from a brush used by Kathy for a laboratory comparison. They didn't say when laboratory tests would be completed.

Kathy's mother, Mrs. James Hampton, collapsed early today while listening to a radio newscast about the latest development. She mistakenly understood the newscaster to say a sample of hair from the beauty shop had been identified as Kathy's.

The Hamptons, parents of six children, insist Kathy would not run away.

Hope for Business Pickup Given New Encouragement

Colombia Military Coup Is Failure

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia prepared today to elect its first constitutional president in a decade after failure of an attempted military coup to prevent it.

In an almost bloodless uprising early Friday some 1,500 soldiers seized the leading candidate in Sunday's election and four members of the five-man ruling junta. But the fifth junta member rallied loyal forces and forced the rebels to back down.

Rear Adm. Ruben Piedrahita, the fifth junta member, blamed the seven-hour uprising on persons who resent the impending emergence of a constitutional government in this South American nation. The political beliefs of the rebels are not known.

The uprising followed a futile attempt Wednesday to disrupt the election. That attempt was staged by supporters of Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, former dictator who was ousted a year ago.

ROJAS HAS BEEN in Spain but Friday night he blew from Bermuda to Barbados, a Caribbean island 1,300 miles northeast of Bogota. He told a reporter he knew nothing of the uprising. Rojas said he hoped to go to the United States after a five-day visit in Barbados.

The attempted coup was called an act of lunacy by former president Alberto Lleras Camargo, the odds-on favorite to be elected Sunday under an agreement by the two leading political parties to back him.

The presidential election is being held under a 16-year truce between the Conservatives and Liberals. The truce is designed to put the nation back on the track of peaceful government after eight years of feuding that cost an estimated 100,000 lives.

In Buenos Aires, President Arturo Frondizi banned all imports to conserve Argentina's rapidly disappearing foreign currency resources. It was the new president's first official act.

There was no indication of how long the import ban imposed Friday would last. It soon will have to be lifted at least partly to allow the nation to being in vital fuel and raw materials.

Hood Flies Up, Fugitive Ends In Muny Court

A 28-year-old Gallipolis man faced triple charges in Circleville Municipal Court today. He tried to run away from a state highway patrolman.

Charged with failure to obey an officer, driving an unsafe vehicle and driving while under the influence of alcohol is William O. Richesson, 28, Gallipolis.

Highway Patrolman James Cooper said that two hitskip, one fatal near Wilmington, were reported last night and the patrol has been alerted for heavily damaged vehicles.

Cooper reported Richesson's car was parked along Route 23 just north of Circleville headed south at 6:30 a. m. today. He said he noticed the car was damaged along the right side. He ordered Richesson to stay there.

Cooper reported he drove north on Route 23 to turn into the south-bound lane, but Richesson drove away. Cooper called Circleville police to watch the east exit of the Route 23-22 interchange and then headed west on Route 22, looking for Richesson.

A SHORT DISTANCE out of town he found Richesson, headed west. The fugitive's car was damaged allowing wind to get under the hood, forcing it up, blocking off Richesson's vision. He slid into the ditch just west of the Route 56 intersection where Cooper nabbed him.

Cooper said he has not been able to connect Richesson with the two hitskip incidents.

New U.S. Idle Pay Claims Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation benefits dropped last week.

Reporting that, the Labor Department said initial claims, reflecting new layoffs, declined by 23,300 to a total of 423,000 during the week ended April 26.

The department's Bureau of Employment Security attributed the decline in insured unemployment to a seasonal pickup in construction and other outdoor work.

They helped the startled animal back on its feet and, a little wobbly, it resumed grazing. The state highway patrol and the Civil Aeronautics Board are investigating.

Embattled Episcopal Church Reopening Canceled in Fuss

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans to reopen the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn Sunday have been canceled.

The Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe, bishop of Long Island, announced Friday night that the strife-torn church would remain closed until "order is established."

Holy Trinity has been closed since last July pending legal and ecclesiastical battles over the ouster of the Rev. Mr. Howard Melish as acting rector. The bishop announced Monday the church would reopen for services Sunday.

Dr. A. Edward Saunders, archdeacon of Brooklyn, and the Rev. H. L. Michael Cowan, newly appointed assistant to the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Sidenier, who was named to succeed Melish were to conduct the Sunday Services.

Dr. Saunders said he had received a letter carrying the signature of Cameron Beadle, a pro-

Dr. David S. Goldschmidt, 901 N. Atwater Ave., was elected first vice president of the Ohio BPO Elks Assn. today during the group's 60th annual convention held in the Neil House, Columbus.

Goldschmidt has held a state Elks office for five years and was opposed for the vice president position. With normal procedure Goldschmidt will become president next year.

"Dave," as he is known around local circles, is a past exalted ruler of the Circleville Elks and past chairman of the South Central Ohio District.

Goldschmidt is active in civic organizations and has been a member of the Circleville Kiwanis and past president of the Circleville Youth Canteen.

Auto Union, GM Resume Bargaining

DETROIT (AP) — A news blackout went into effect today as General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union met in their first Saturday bargaining session.

The UAW and GM and Ford Motor Co. agreed Friday to reinstate the blackout, which was lifted last weekend. Chrysler Corp. and the union are expected to reach a similar agreement when they resume talks Monday.

Even Financial Market Joins With Optimists

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a business pickup received mild encouragement this week from a rising trend in production, jobs and farmers' income.

There were signs, too, that the frantic rush to unload business inventories might have run its course.

The government's latest figures on employment could be interpreted in a good or bad light, depending on where you sat. The nation's unemployment total declined last month for the first time since October. But the decline—78,000—was much smaller than the 300,000 to 350,000 normally recorded at this time of year.

Total employment was up 596,000 to 62,907,000. That's just short of the 63 million mark. Much of the rise reflected seasonal hiring for outdoor jobs. Unemployment totaled 5,120,000.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower said the downward trend in unemployment shows that the business decline is flattening out George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, said the figures prove the recession is getting worse.

Wall Street apparently sided with the optimists this week. The stock market reached a new 1958 high. Bulls were cheered by the prospect of increased government spending, "easier" money and lower interest rates.

Corporate earnings reports for the first quarter showed profits down sharply from a year ago but no worse than had been expected and in some instances not quite as bad.

Briefly over the business scene: Auto production rebounded to 79,808 cars this week from last week's 58,664; major oil companies predict a modest but noticeable upturn in crude oil production in the second half of the year; consumer installment credit continued its downward trend in March; department store sales last week showed a four per cent increase over last year.

Ohio Federal Judges Report On Vacations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vacations taken in recent years by federal judges in Ohio have varied from none at all to more than a month.

In a poll on judicial vacations published today, Judge John H. Druffel of the Southern Ohio District said he took no vacations from 1953 through 1955, and took three-week vacations in each of the three previous years.

The reply of Judge Frank L. Klob of Ohio's Northern District was summarized this way: "Vacations the month of July at summer home in Wisconsin. Works on criminal matters and civil motions during the first week of August, or longer, if the work is heavy, and then returns to his summer home until late in the month."

The replies were part of nationwide poll taken by the Committee on Court Administration of the Judicial Conference to determine what connection, if any, vacations had to do with court workloads.

Ike Schedules Goodwill Visit to Canada Next July

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will visit Ottawa next July in a personal bid to tighten U. S. relations with Canada, this country's nearest NATO ally and best customer.

The White House announced Friday that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will visit the Canadian capital July 8-10. They will be accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles on what was officially described as an informal trip.

The schedule is expected to allow time for full scale policy talks by Eisenhower with Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, who invited Eisenhower to visit.

Diplomats of both countries hope those talks will better Canadian-U.S. relations, especially in handling economic problems which have caused increasing difficulties in recent years.

Eisenhower will address a joint session of the Canadian Parliament during his visit.

DIEFENBAKER'S Progressive-Conservative Party, which holds firm control of the Canadian House of Commons, has some outspoken critics of what they consider Canada's economic dependence on the United States.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is said to want increased Canadian trade with Britain and other Commonwealth countries and to intend to make sure Canada's voice is listened to in Washington.

Last year this country exported to Canada $3,880,000,000 worth of goods while Canadian exports to the United States totaled $2,900,000,000. U. S. economists explain that the billion dollar bulge in favor of the United States was made up by the flow of American investment capital into Canada. But even so, Canadian leaders would like to see the trade more nearly balanced.

Benson Plans Official Visit Into Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson is planning a trip to Russia—the first so far by a Cabinet officer of the Eisenhower administration.

Benson said Friday he was accepting an invitation from V. Matskevich, Soviet minister of agriculture. He said he hopes to make the trip in July—probably for about 10 days, as part of a program to encourage exchange visits of leading citizens of both nations.

Matskevich extended the invitation to Benson while touring the United States in 1955 with other Russian farm specialists.

Benson said he has been considering the trip for some time and that the State Department endorses the visit in return for the Matskevich tour.

Benson's trip will mark the first visit to Russia by a high U. S. official since Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, went there two years ago while he was Air Force chief of staff.

A statement issued by Benson's office said the secretary plans to visit agricultural areas of the Soviet Union, including farms and research centers, and to see the all-union agricultural exhibition in Moscow.

His itinerary has not been completed, but will likely include visits to other European countries.

U.N. Stalemate Under Study

West Seeks New Way Toward Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western delegates cast around today for new ways to break the disarmament talk stalemate after Russia vetoed a U. S. proposal for Arctic aerial inspections.

The Soviet Union still stood behind its charges that U. S. bomber flights into the Arctic threatened peace after killing Washington's answer of a plan to prevent surprise attacks over the top of the world.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev voted against the U. S. resolution Friday in the U. N. Security Council after denouncing it as a gimmick to permit Western spying on northern Russia. It was Russia's 83rd veto since 1946. The other 10 council members voted for the resolution.

A Soviet resolution calling for a halt to the nuclear bomb carrying flights was voted down 9-1, with Sweden abstaining.

Secretary of State Dulles was enroute to Copenhagen today for a NATO conference at which he is expected to pick up fresh support for the inspection plan.

BEFORE TAKING off Friday night, Dulles branded as frightening the Soviet veto.

"The result is tragic" but the United States will "refuse to be discouraged," Dulles declared.

"At the choice of the Soviet Union, the fears and the risks continue," Dulles said. "They continue for one reason alone, and that is because the Soviet Union rejects international inspection against surprise attack."

Dulles said "the significance of that is frightening. It means that at the will and choice of the Soviet Union we shall have to go on living on the edge of an awful abyss from which we could, so readily, be rescued if only the Soviet Union did not insist on retaining for itself the possibility of massive attack against us."

U.S. Farmers Cool On Soil Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmer participation this year in the longest range conservative reserve part of the soil bank program has turned out to be disappointing to the government.

The Agriculture Department reports farmers offered only 4,068,000 acres of general cropland for retirement from production for periods of 3, 5, or 10 years. Officials had hoped that at least 10 million acres would be offered for the conservation reserve before the sign-up period ended April 15.

As it is, payments to farmers who agreed to retire land last year and this year will total about $132 million, or $193 million short of the amount Congress had authorized.

Embattled Episcopal Church Reopening Canceled in Fuss

NEW YORK (AP)—Plans to reopen the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity in Brooklyn Sunday have been canceled.

The Rt. Rev. James P. DeWolfe, bishop of Long Island, announced Friday night that the strife-torn church would remain closed until "order is established."

Holy Trinity has been closed since last July pending legal and ecclesiastical battles over the ouster of the Rev. Mr. Howard Melish as acting rector. The bishop announced Monday the church would reopen for services Sunday.

Dr. A. Edward Saunders, archdeacon of Brooklyn, and the Rev. H. L. Michael Cowan, newly appointed assistant to the Rev. Dr. Herman S. Siderer, who was named to succeed Melish were to conduct the Sunday Services.

Dr. Saunders said he had received a letter carrying the signature of Cameron Beadle, a pro-

Melish senior warden of the church who is unrecognized by the bishop.

DR. SAUNDERS quoted the letter as saying: "We consider you as an announced trespasser and we will resist your trespass with all means at our disposal."

In his statement, Bishop DeWolfe called Beadle's letter "fantastic."

"It would be unthinkable to turn a church, the house of God, into a place of resistance and battle," the bishop said.

The bishop had closed the church after a series of clashes between pro-Melish and anti-Melish parishioners. Melish was ousted as acting rector after a long controversy over whether he had left leaning influences. He has denied any Communist affiliations.

Melish's father, the Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish, 83, is under court order to move out of the church rectory which he has occupied for 54 years.

Church officials want the building for the new rector, Dr. Siderer.

Dr. Melish had been removed as rector for supporting his son's activities. Despite the father's removal as rector, he was voted lifetime occupancy of the rectory by the 1951 vestry.

Missile To Probe Moon within Year

COLUMBUS (AP)—An unmanned missile will "probe" the moon in the next year, Prof. Rudolph Edse of the Ohio State University Department of Aeronautical Engineering has told the OSU Conference on Engineering.

Edse said scientists believe that within three years an unmanned missile will circle the moon and return and within the next seven or eight years man will have landed on the moon and returned.

He added that perhaps in 12 years man will have expanded the space frontier to Mars.

Edse spoke at the Friday afternoon session, which centered around the technical problems science faces in the Space Age.

Time Fleeting For Candidates In Ohio Primary

Sensenbrenner Says He Will Win Dem Gubernatorial Nod

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Time is fleeting for candidates seeking party nominations in next Tuesday's primary election.

At least one of the seven Democrats seeking his party's nomination for governor is confident of success.

Columbus Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner says he will win the nomination by 20,000 votes.

Sensenbrenner made the confident prediction in response to a question about a rumor he might withdraw from the race and throw his support to Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Meanwhile, Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo winds up his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor with a television appearance in Cleveland today.

DiSalle and two other candidates for the nomination, Cuyahoga County engineer Albert S. Porter and Celebrezze, continued to woo the heavy Cuyahoga County vote with appearances there Friday night.

CELEBREZZE made a television appearance and addressed the 26th Ward Celebrezze Boosters Club.

Porter made the rounds of a dozen or more ward meetings in the evening.

DiSalle made evening visits to ward meetings after spending the day shaking hands with shoppers at several large shopping centers. Celebrezze told the Boosters Club the "same people are opposing me now who opposed me before on the basis they can't control me."

"I believe in the principle of the Democratic Party to serve the interests of all people, not just a few selfish people," he declared.

After visiting some of the major shopping centers, DiSalle said he was "satisfied with the results" of a statewide campaign that covered 22,000 miles.

Porter, in his round of ward meetings, charged Gov. C. William O'Neill with "failure to seek United States funds to extend jobless benefits."

An endorsement for Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati for governor came out of the smoke and debate of a Cleveland Fourth Ward Republican Club rally Friday night.

Ward leader John Cavano denied it was a valid endorsement. He said it was merely the action of "a few people sitting around a table."

COUNCILMAN James J. Livingston, an O'Neill supporter who presided, said the meeting was not a Taft rally but one open to all Republicans. Candidates for other offices, including staunch supporters of O'Neill, were among speakers at the rally.

Howard I. Chesler, who headed Taft's gubernatorial campaign here in 1952, quoted Taft as saying that if nominated "I will conduct a campaign with all the vigor I possess."

Chesler said Taft is "a real candidate," not a stand-in. Taft had entered his name as a candidate following O'Neill's heart attack. He said he was merely a stand-in candidate in case illness should prevent O'Neill's running for reelection.

OTHER prominent officials heading the program will be the Rev. Norman S. Marshall, national commissioner of the Salvation Army, Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of veterans affairs, Richard L. Roubush of the VFW, Stuart J. Satullo of the Amvets, Paul J. Fredricks of the DAV and Sue Ilg, past national president of the National VFW Auxiliary.

Operating concurrently with numerous educational exhibits will be tours of the hospital facilities and services. Staff members will be on hand to explain hospital functions.

An entertainment innovation this year will be a shortened version of the VFW's militaryorama, sponsored by the Musical and Marching Units Assn. Set for 1 p. m., it will feature the senior band of Post 421, Postoria, and the crack rifle drill team of Post 66, East Liverpool.

Major Highlights of the program will come at 3:15 p. m. with parade consisting of more than 150 units. Included will be some 20 bands, 10 drum corps, 60 marching units, 40 floats, and 20 beautiful queens.

Participants will represent at least 30 different communities in the state.

Anti-Shorts Fuss Boils In Texas City

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — Who likes shorts? Not Mrs. Wade Craddock.

She headed up an anti-shorts faction that asked the Grand Prairie City Council to prohibit the wearing of shorts in public.

"Women are losing something very precious when they walk the streets in indecent clothing," said Mrs. Craddock, mother of an 18-year-old son and president of the Women's Missionary Union at the First Baptist Church.

"Foolishness," said Mrs. S. C. Walker, a shapely accordion teacher who leads a small but fast-growing group in defense of "women's rights."

And so the battle lines were drawn.

Mrs. Craddock heads a no-shorts delegation formed at several local churches. She and 34 other women asked the City Council to ban the wearing of shorts in public.

"We can't expect our men to have any respect for women who run around in indecent clothing," Mrs. Craddock declared.

"Nonsense," replied Mrs. Walker. "Those women think they're protecting their men from going astray. It isn't fair to legislate something like that—we've got too many laws now."

The council took no action.

License Fees Show Increase

With checks for the initial distribution of 1958 auto license fees written and mailed, State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced that this year's May distribution was almost a million dollars more than the one made this time last year.

The 1958 advance payment certified to Rhodes for check writing by George C. Braden, registrar of motor vehicles, was $33,299,200. Last year's first advance was $32,319,181.

On the basis of this increase, Rhodes said that this year's motor vehicle registration in Ohio may pass the four million mark for the first time. Total 1957 registration was 3,950,567.

It took 16 years for Ohio to reach the million mark in motor vehicle registration in 1923; 14 more years to hit the two million mark in 1937; 13 more years to reach the third million in 1950. It appears that the fourth million may be reached in only eight years.

U.S. Jet Bombers Sent to Factory

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's B-47 bombers, major elements of U.S. striking power, are going back to the factory for correction of a structural weakness that showed up in low level operations.

An Air Force announcement Friday said it will take several months to complete modification of the approximately 1,400 B-47s, the medium range arm of the Strategic Air Command. The six-jet B-47s, originally designed for stratosphere flight, can pack a nuclear bomb more than 3,000 miles at speeds of more than 600 miles an hour.

Four Local Persons Named To Attend Episcopal Meeting

The 84th Annual Convention of the Diocese of Southern Ohio of the Episcopal Church will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday at Trinity Church, Columbus.

The principal order of business will be the election of a bishop coadjutor who will, upon the retirement of Bishop Henry Wise Hobson, become the diocesan bishop in May 1959.

Delegates from all of the Episcopal parishes and missions throughout Southern Ohio have been elected or appointed by their respective parishes and will assemble at 9 a. m. Tuesday for registration at the Neil House, Columbus. There will follow a service of Holy Communion at 10:30 a. m. at Trinity Church and the convention will be called to order at 11:15 a. m.

Delegates from Circleville's St. Philip's Church are Robert Call, Dr. Jake Nolen, Mrs. J. E. Groom and Mrs. Leora Sayre. Alternates are Mrs. Nolen, Charles Gilmore, J. W. O'Donnell and Mrs. Helen Weldon.

The first order of business will be the organization of the convention and the appointment of committees, the roll call, and the adoption of the rules of order. Immediately thereafter nominations for bishop coadjutor will be accepted. All nominations will be from the floor.

FOLLOWING luncheon, which will be held at the Masonic Temple, the convention will resume at 2:15 p. m. to continue nominations unless they have been completed in the morning session.

It is the intention of the convention to continue balloting throughout Tuesday and Wednesday, or until the bishop coadjutor has been elected. Other items of business before the convention either will be presented "by title" in the printed pre-convention journal or taken up before the convention while counting of the ballots is in process.

The Diocese of Southern Ohio includes approximately 80 parishes and missions in the Southern half of Ohio, including Circleville. The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, who has served as Bishop since his election in 1930, announced at the last convention, in 1957, his intention to retire in 1959, and immediately thereafter the standing committee of the diocese set up procedures for the election of a coadjutor, with the right of automatic succession.

During Bishop Hobson's tenure as spiritual leader of the diocese, there has been a continuous growth in both missions and parishes and the diocese has been noted for its outstanding record of support of the work of the general church throughout the world.

Bishop Hobson has been a member of the National Council and one of the foremost leaders of the Episcopal Church in the U.S.A. As is customary, Bishop Hobson will be the presiding officer of the convention assisted by the Archdeacon, the venerable David R. Thornberry.

DiSalle made evening visits to ward meetings after spending the day shaking hands with shoppers at several large shopping centers. Celebrezze told the Boosters Club the "same people are opposing me now who opposed me before on the basis they can't control me."

"I believe in the principle of the Democratic Party to serve the interests of all people, not just a few selfish people," he declared.

After visiting some of the major shopping centers, DiSalle said he was "satisfied with the results" of a statewide campaign that covered 22,000 miles. Porter, in his round of ward meetings, charged Gov. C. William O'Neill with "failure to seek United States funds to extend jobless benefits."

An endorsement for Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati for governor came out of the smoke and debate of a Cleveland Fourth Ward Republican Club rally Friday night.

Ward leader John Cavanaugh denied it was a valid endorsement. He said it was merely the action of "a few people sitting around a table."

COUNCILMAN James J. Livingston, an O'Neill supporter who presided, said the meeting was not a Taft rally but one open to all Republicans. Candidates for other offices, including staunch supporters of O'Neill, were among speakers at the rally.

Howard I. Chesler, who headed Taft's gubernatorial campaign here in 1952, quoted Taft as saying that if nominated "I will conduct a campaign with all the vigor I possess."

Chesler said Taft is "a real candidate," not a stand-in. Taft had entered his name as a candidate following O'Neill's heart attack. He said he was merely a stand-in candidate in case illness should prevent O'Neill's running for reelection.

Anti-Shorts Fuss Boils In Texas City

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. — Who likes shorts? Not Mrs. Wade Craddock.

She headed up an anti-shorts faction that asked the Grand Prairie City Council to prohibit the wearing of shorts in public.

"Women are losing something very precious when they walk the streets in indecent clothing," said Mrs. Craddock, mother of an 18-year-old son and president of the Women's Missionary Union at the First Baptist Church.

"Foolishness," said Mrs. S. C. Walker, a shapely accordion teacher who leads a small but fast-growing group in defense of "women's rights."

Mrs. Craddock heads a no-shorts delegation formed at several local churches. She and 34 other women asked the City Council to ban the wearing of shorts in public.

"We can't expect our men to have any respect for women who run around in indecent clothing," Mrs. Craddock declared.

"Nonsense," replied Mrs. Walker. "Those women think they're protecting their men from going astray. It isn't fair to legislate something like that—we've got too many laws now."

The council took no action.

License Fees Show Increase

With checks for the initial distribution of 1958 auto license fees written and mailed, State Auditor James A. Rhodes announced that this year's May distribution was almost a million dollars more than the one made this time last year.

The 1958 advance payment certified to Rhodes for check writing by George C. Braden, registrar of motor vehicles, was $33,299,200. Last year's first advance was $32,319,181.

On the basis of this increase, Rhodes said that this year's motor vehicle registration in Ohio may pass the four million mark for the first time. Total 1957 registration was 3,950,567.

It took 16 years for Ohio to reach the million mark in motor vehicle registration in 1923; 14 more years to hit the two million mark in 1937; 13 more years to reach the third million in 1950. It appears that the fourth million may be reached in only eight years.

THE EARLY May distribution of auto license money went to counties, cities and villages. Later there will be a further distribution to townships and counties on the basis of the road mileage in each. Townships will share $1,936,000 and counties, $3,484,800.

Although road mileage varies widely in townships, this will mean an average of $1454 for each of Ohio's 1331 townships.

U.S. Jet Bombers Sent to Factory

WASHINGTON — America's B47 bombers, major elements of U.S. striking power, are going back to the factory for correction of a structural weakness that showed up in low level operations.

An Air Force announcement Friday said it will take several months to complete modification of the approximately 1,400 B47s, the medium range arm of the Strategic Air Command. The six-jet B47s, originally designed for stratospheric flight, can pack a nuclear bomb more than 3,000 miles at speeds of more than 600 miles an hour.

"We can't expect our men to have any respect for women who run around in indecent clothing," Mrs. Craddock declared.

"Nonsense," replied Mrs. Walker. "Those women think they're protecting their men from going astray. It isn't fair to legislate something like that—we've got too many laws now."

The council took no action.

ations for bishop coadjutor will be accepted. All nominations will be from the floor.

FOLLOWING luncheon, which will be held at the Masonic Temple, the convention will resume at 2:15 p. m. to continue nominations unless they have been completed in the morning session.

It is the intention of the convention to continue balloting throughout Tuesday and Wednesday, or until the bishop coadjutor has been elected. Other items of business before the convention either will be presented "by title" in the printed pre-convention journal or taken up before the convention while counting of the ballots is in process.

The Diocese of Southern Ohio includes approximately 80 parishes and missions in the Southern half of Ohio, including Circleville.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson, who has served as Bishop since his election in 1930, announced at the last convention, in 1957, his intention to retire in 1959, and immediately thereafter the standing committee of the diocese set up procedures for the election of a coadjutor, with the right of automatic succession.

During Bishop-Hobson's tenure as spiritual leader of the diocese, there has been a continuous growth in both missions and parishes and the diocese has been noted for its outstanding record of support of the work of the general church throughout the world.

Bishop Hobson has been a member of the National Council and one of the foremost leaders of the Episcopal Church in the U.S.A. As is customary, Bishop Hobson will be the presiding officer of the convention assisted by the Archdeacon, the venerable David R. Thornberry.

Love and marriage—one of the thresholds of life. Approaching it are the happy strides of youth. Beyond it, joy for some, sorrow for others.

And how long the world has searched for a formula that would test the quality of love . . . a standard that would assure happiness in marriage.

Until finally, with remarkable wisdom, we've begun to realize that it all depends on the individuals themselves.

But, of course, there are two individuals! How can we provide both with the qualities of character that will enrich their marriage?

The Church believes the answer lies in continuous religious training and wholesome boy and girl activities. With deep concern for the individual, the couple, and the community, it is building the character of America's youth . . . safeguarding for tomorrow as well as today the sanctity of marriage, home and family.

Have you a son or daughter? Have they a church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Love and marriage—one of the thresholds of life. Approaching it are the happy strides of youth. Beyond it, joy for some, sorrow for others.

And how long the world has searched for a formula that would test the quality of love . . . a standard that would assure happiness in marriage.

Until finally, with remarkable wisdom, we've begun to realize that it all depends on the individuals themselves.

But, of course, there are two individuals! How can we provide both with the qualities of character that will enrich their marriage?

The Church believes the answer lies in continuous religious training and wholesome boy and girl activities. With deep concern for the individual, the couple, and the community, it is building the character of America's youth . . . safeguarding for tomorrow as well as today the sanctity of marriage, home and family.

Have you a son or daughter? Have they a church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

From Guns to Farm Production

If ever a tribute was paid to the farmers of America and Canada, it came in current speculation that Russian Dictator Khrushchev is prepared to cut his defense budget in an effort to match U. S. farm and ranch production.

A great disgrace in the communist enterprise is its lagging farm segment. Although 52 million Russian peasants are employed cultivating 480 million acres, food shortages continue.

This is particularly embarrassing for the communists because it contrasts abysmally with the United States where 6 million farmers cultivate 260 million acres and have the nation knee-deep in enormous surplus of grain, butter and other products.

In fact, if Russia hadn't been able to rob

the farms of its East European satellites the past 13 years, its food shortage would probably be more disgraceful.

Khrushchev boasted recently that soon Russians will be better clothed and fed than Americans. But the amazing fact is that Russian meat herds are no much larger than they were when the last czar was killed more than 40 years ago. And as estimated 10 million Russians died of starvation during World War II.

Here is one of the greatest paradoxes of this era:

A backward country industrially, Russia has made gains in some lines, as the Sputniks showed. Yet the United States, the industrial giant, has continually outstripped her in the very field of agriculture that was supposedly her base for growth.

Hope for France and NATO

Out of the great confusion that is France—now engaged in the 27th government crisis since World War II—has come assurance from NATO Commander Lauris Norstad that the French have agreed in principle to allow missile bases in their country.

Thus the Gaillard regime falls because it had agreed to American-British terms on direct negotiations with Tunisia over North African problems. Accompanying the fall of the government is an atmosphere of bitter denunciation of the U. S.

And the French foreign ministry confirms that talks are under way to set up

th missile bases that the U. S., through NATO, wants.

The fact is that France probably will continue along the same general lines of policy—adherence to NATO and the West—regardless of whatever regime comes into being. Last June it took three weeks to find a government. Later, it took 36 days to form the Gaillard regime.

Each time it becomes progressively more difficult to find a middle-road premier who can satisfy the various factions. So far, though, Western defense efforts—symbolized by the missiles bases talks—continue.

There is hope in this.

Treasury Man Needs Strength

Robert Anderson, Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, is appraised by Washington reporters as the new strong man of the administration. George Humphrey, when he was head of the Treasury Department, was similarly appraised.

This is interesting in relation to the all-pervading influence of U. S. governmental financing in the nation and the world today. It began nearly 30 years ago when the depression hit and the Treasury began to shore up numerous relief programs. It has extended to the world through wartime lend-lease and postwar foreign aid.

Today the Treasury is the base for multi-billion domestic subsidies, multi-billion foreign economic aid and mountainous outputs of cash for military procurement at home and abroad.

Meantime the U. S. has accumulated a $275 billion debt which the Treasury is called on to manage. It must be managed in a way, in cooperation with the Federal Reserve System, to keep the domestic economy in as good a balance as possible between inflationary and deflationary forces.

Should there be a slip-up involving the United States in a financial crisis, the American people would suffer and the nation would lose face in the whole world.

During other eras a secretary of state, an attorney general or another member of the cabinet had the spotlight through strength. No wonder Robert Anderson, like George Humphrey before him, is now rated strongest. He has to be to carry that load

Labor Barons Control Workers

The labor bill that Congress is bound to pass, however weak, will be annoying to the labor barons who have made a business of the control of the work of men.

Some labor leaders would prefer that labor be permitted to clean its own house, without the intervention of Congress, the courts or the Administration. Thus far, they have not succeeded in doing much in this direction because the labor union leadership has, in many industries, attracted men to whom this work is not a professionalized public service but a private business.

Take, for instance, the case of Raymond Cohen, boss of Teamsters Local 107 in Philadelphia, who appeared before the McClellan Committee to testify concerning a "favorable" agreement with the Food Fair Stores chain. Involved in the statement that the union permits the Food Fair Stores chain as many as 287 "free drops" of laden trailers a day, while the A & P Stores are limited to not more than 50 "free drops" a day.

A "free drop" is when the driver detaches his tractor from the trailer while it is being unloaded. In all stops in excess of the "free drops," the driver stays on the premises, drawing his hourly pay for the three to four hours required in unloading. This is enormously expensive feather-bedding. During this period, the driver does nothing but draw pay. He could be using his tractor to haul another load.

Anybody who knows simple arithmetic can figure that the Food Fair Stores chain, under such an agreement with the union, effected an enormous savings in costs not available to its competitors, which is good business and no reflection on Food Fair Stores.

Raymond Cohen was called before the Senate labor racket committee to explain this and other activities and took the Fifth Amendment about self-incrimination, particularly as regards questions as to his own finances.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania's Attorney General, Thomas D. McBride, admitted before the same Senate committee that he had continued on the payroll of Teamsters Local 107 for two months after he was sworn into office and that he received a retainer of $1,750 for each of those months. He refused to keep the check for the third month, giving it to his old law firm, McBride, Von Moschizker and Bradley.

He also acknowledged that he received and accepted a Christmas gift of $500 three days after he was named Attorney General by the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania. He volunteered this testimony.

The Senate committee has accused Raymond Cohen and Joseph Grace, president of the local, of being short $491,000 of union funds. McBride's testimony before the committee was that he never worked for Cohen but for the union.

"The Philadelphia Inquirer," commenting on this situation, said:

"It was a refreshing interlude, in one sense, yesterday, when Pennsylvania's Attorney General McBride voluntarily appeared before the McClellan Committee to resent and repel, as we think he had every right to do, the casual inclusion of his name in testimony the preceding day as recipient—before he became Attorney General—of legal fees as attorney for Local 107. The McClellan Committee would be well advised to avoid such incidents involving unmerited by-the-way smears of individuals."

The answer, of course, is that when a committee investigates, names come up and when they appear, they must be investigated. Therefore no one can "resent and repel" what is in the record, namely that McBride's name appeared on union checks subsequent to his appointment as Attorney General.

There may be an excellent and valid explanation, but the fact that a man is an Attorney General or any other kind of a public functionary does not and ought not to safeguard him from investigation by a Congressional committee seeking information about union funds or any other matter concerning the state of the nation. Attorney General McBride knows this as well as any

Try and Stop Me

A GROUP OF top-level scientists took time off from their study of interplanetary rockets and missiles for a vacation at Las Vegas. One of them spent so much time at the roulette tables that a colleague grumbled, "Jones there is throwing away his hard-earned savings as though there was no tomorrow." The man he addressed looked thoughtful. "Could be," he commented finally, "that Jones knows something!"

Babies Born Almost Blind

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Although you probably never realized it, the art of seeing is a skill which must be acquired like walking and talking. A new-born baby is almost blind. He lives in a vague world of light and shadow until he learns how to see.

It's especially difficult because he sees things upside down. And he sees them separately with each eye. For the first six to eight weeks of his life his vision is blurred.

So don't be too disappointed if your new infant doesn't seem to recognize you.

Be alert for any indication that something may be wrong with his eyes. Watch especially for any of the following:

Red eyelids, encrusted eyelashes, discharging eyes, persistent watering of the eyes, blood-shot eyes, squint, puffy eyelids, abnormal prominence of the eyeball or an eyeball which constantly shifts position.

other lawyer does and he would act as Senator McClellan did when he was in the Senator's place. The fact that he appeared voluntarily is an acknowledgment of the right of Congress to obtain information.

Meanwhile, the question ought to be asked, what happens to missing union funds? Who gets the dough? This is the essential question at issue and ought not to be lost in extraneous matter.

If any of these occur, report them to your doctor.

Some infants may appear to be cross-eyed. Call this to your doctor's attention, too, if you notice it in your baby. Often the condition is corrected as the eye muscles become stronger. But it's best to have an expert on top of the situation just in case it does not clear up promptly.

Waiting too long for eyes to straighten out might result in permanent blindness if a real case of crossed-eyes exists.

Incidentally, you probably can predict the shape of your child's eyes. If you or your spouse have large eyes, chances are the youngster will have them, too.

If one parent has long lashes, it is likely that the youngster also will have long lashes.

Children generally will not have slanting eyes unless both parents have them. If either you or your spouse has slanting eyes, the trait probably will skip your children and then appear again in the next generation.

Question and Answer

N.P.: Is the dust from broken fluorescent light bulbs dangerous?

Answer: Inhaled dust from a broken fluorescent bulb has contained in the past a metal known as beryllium. This beryllium can cause damage to the lungs and other organs of the body.

However, since 1949, this metal has not been used in the manufacture of fluorescent light bulbs.

Hays Says Benson Mails Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) has told Secretary of Agriculture Benson he has consigned to the waste basket as "tailor-made" propaganda a pamphlet Benson sent him on farm living conditions.

In a letter to Benson, Hays said the pamphlet is one substituted by Benson for a previous one that was destroyed because, as Hays put it, the first study indicated "things were not so rosy with farmers."

"I wonder if you think I am stupid enough to believe anything in the piece of propaganda that arrived," Hays wrote. "As a farmer myself, and one who knows intimately farm conditions, I do not have to be propagandized."

BUC Handed Note From Governor

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill has sent a curt note to Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials calling for more speed in determining claims for jobless benefits.

His three-sentence note was directed to both Richard L. Krabach, chairman of the BUC Board of Review, and James R. Tichenor, BUC administrator.

The governor's note read: "I urge you to take whatever action is necessary to brake the bottlenecks and speed the final determination of protested claims for unemployment compensation. Every person who, under the law, is entitled to benefits should receive prompt payment. Ohio should permit no hardships."

From Guns to Farm Production

If ever a tribute was paid to the farmers of America and Canada, it came in current speculation that the Russian Dictator Khrushchev is prepared to cut his defense budget in an effort to match U. S. farm and ranch production.

A great disgrace in the communist enterprise is its lagging farm segment. Although 52 million Russian peasants are employed cultivating 480 million acres, food shortages continue.

This is particularly embarrassing for the communists because it contrasts abysmally with the United States where 6 million farmers cultivate 260 million acres and have the nation knee-deep in enormous surplus of grain, butter and other products.

In fact, if Russia hadn't been able to rob

the farms of its East European satellites the past 13 years, its food shortage would probably be more disgraceful.

Khrushchev boasted recently that soon Russians will be better clothed and fed than Americans. But the amazing fact is that Russian meat herds are no much larger than they were when the last czar was killed more than 40 years ago. And as estimated 10 million Russians died of starvation during World War II.

Here is one of the greatest paradoxes of this era:

A backward country industrially, Russia has made gains in some lines, as the sputniks showed. Yet the United States, the industrial giant, has continually outstripped her in the very field of agriculture that was supposedly her base for growth.

Hope for France and NATO

Out of the great confusion that is France—now engaged in the 27th government crisis since World War II—has come assurance from NATO Commander Lauris Norstad that the French have agreed in principle to allow missile bases in their country.

Thus the Gaillard regime falls because it had agreed to American-British terms on direct negotiations with Tunisia over North African problems. Accompanying the fall of the government is an atmosphere of bitter denunciation of the U. S.

And the French foreign ministry confirms that talks are under way to set up

th missile bases that the U. S., through NATO, wants.

The fact is that France probably will continue along the same general lines of policy—adherence to NATO and the West—regardless of whatever regime comes in to being. Last June it took three weeks to find a government. Later, it took 36 days to form the Gaillard regime.

Each time it becomes progressively more difficult to find a middle-road premier who can satisfy the various factions. So far, though, Western defense efforts—symbolized by the missiles bases talks—continue.

There is hope in this.

Treasury Man Needs Strength

Robert Anderson, Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, is appraised by Washington reporters as the new strong man of the administration. George Humphrey, when he was head of the Treasury Department, was similarly appraised.

This is interesting in relation to the all-pervading influence of U. S. governmental financing in the nation and the world today. It began nearly 30 years ago when the depression hit and the Treasury began to shore up numerous relief programs. It has extended to the world through wartime lend-lease and postwar foreign aid.

Today the Treasury is the base for multi-billion domestic subsidies, multi-billion foreign economic aid and mountainous outputs of cash for military procurement at home and abroad.

Meantime the U. S. has accumulated a $275 billion debt which the Treasury is called on to manage. It must be managed in a way, in cooperation with the Federal Reserve System, to keep the domestic economy in as good a balance as possible between inflationary and deflationary forces.

Should there be a slip-up involving the United States in a financial crisis, the American people would suffer and the nation would lose face in the whole world.

During other eras a secretary of state, an attorney general or another member of the cabinet had the spotlight through strength. No wonder Robert Anderson, like George Humphrey before him, is now rated strongest. He has to be to carry that load

A GROUP OF top-level scientists took time off from their study of interplanetary rockets and missiles for a vacation at Las Vegas. One of them spent so much time at the roulette tables that a colleague grumbled, "Jones there is throwing away his hard-earned savings as though there was no tomorrow." The man he addressed looked thoughtful. "Could be," he commented finally, "that Jones knows something!"

Babies Born Almost Blind

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Although you probably never realized it, the art of seeing is a skill which must be acquired like walking and talking. A new-born baby is almost blind. He lives in a vague world of light and shadow until he learns how to see.

It's especially difficult because he sees things upside down. And he sees them separately with each eye. For the first six to eight weeks of his life his vision is blurred.

So don't be too disappointed if your new infant doesn't seem to recognize you.

Be alert for any indication that something may be wrong with his eyes. Watch especially for any of the following:

Red eyelids, encrusted eyelashes, discharging eyes, persistent watering of the eyes, blood-shot eyes, squint, puffy eyelids, abnormal prominence of the eyeball or an eyeball which constantly shifts position.

other lawyer does and he would act as Senator McClellan did were he in the Senator's place. The fact that he appeared voluntarily is an acknowledgment of the right of Congress to obtain information.

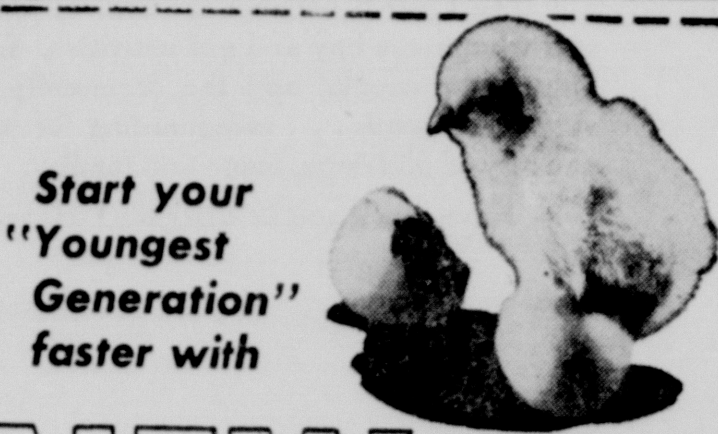

Meanwhile, the question ought to be asked, what happens to missing union funds? Who gets the dough? This is the essential question at issue and ought not to be lost in extraneous matter.

"The Philadelphia Inquirer," commenting on this situation, said:

"It was a refreshing interlude, in one sense, yesterday, when Pennsylvania's Attorney General McBride voluntarily appeared before the McClellan Committee to present and defend, as we think he had every right to do, the casual inclusion of his name in testimony the preceding day as recipient—before he became Attorney General—of legal fees as attorney for Local 107. The McClellan Committee would be well advised to avoid such incidents involving unmerited by-the-way sneers of individuals."

The answer, of course, is that when a committee investigates, names come up and when they appear, they must be investigated. Therefore no one can "resent and defend" what is in the record, namely that McBride's name appeared on union checks subsequent to his appointment as Attorney General.

There may be an excellent and valid explanation, but the fact that a man is an Attorney General or any other kind of a public functionary does not and ought not to safeguard him from investigation by a Congressional committee seeking information about union funds or any other matter concerning the state of the nation. Attorney General McBride knows this as well as any

WASHINGTON — Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) has told Secretary of Agriculture Benson he has consigned to the waste basket as "tailor-made" propaganda a pamphlet Benson sent him on farm living conditions.

In a letter to Benson, Hays said the pamphlet is one substituted by Benson for a previous one that was destroyed because, as Hays put it, the first study indicated "things were not so rosy with farmers."

"I wonder if you think I am stupid enough to believe anything in the piece of propaganda that arrived," Hays wrote. "As a farmer myself, and one who knows intimately farm conditions, I do not have to be propagandized."

BUC Handed Note From Governor

COLUMBUS — Gov. C. William O'Neill has sent a curt note to Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials calling for more speed in determining claims for jobless benefits.

His three-sentence note was directed to both Richard L. Krabach, chairman of the BUC Board of Review, and James R. Tichenor, BUC administrator.

The governor's note read: "I urge you to take whatever action is necessary to brake the bottlenecks and speed the final determination of protested claims for unemployment compensation. Every person who, under the law, is entitled to benefits should receive prompt payment. Ohio should permit no hardships."

Labor Barons Control Workers

By George Sokolsky

The labor bill that Congress is bound to pass, however weak, will be annoying to the labor barons who have made a business of the control of the work of men.

Some labor leaders would prefer that labor be permitted to clean its own house, without the intervention of Congress, the courts or the Administration. Thus far, they have not succeeded in doing much in this direction because the labor union leadership has, in many industries, attracted men to whom this work is not a professionalized public service but a private business.

Take, for instance, the case of Raymond Cohen, boss of Teamsters Local 107 in Philadelphia, who appeared before the McClellan Committee to testify concerning a "favorable" agreement with the Food Fair Stores chain. Involved is the statement that the union permits the Food Fair Stores chain as many as 287 "free drops" of laden trailers a day, while the A & P Stores are limited to not more than 50 "free drops" a day.

A "free drop" is when the driver detaches his tractor from the trailer while it is being unloaded. In all stops in excess of the "free drops," the driver stays on the premises, drawing his hourly pay for the three to four hours required in unloading. This is enormously expensive feather-bedding. During this period, the driver does nothing but draw pay. He could be using his tractor to haul another load.

Anybody who knows simple arithmetic can figure that the Food Fair Stores chain, under such an agreement with the union, effected an enormous savings in costs not available to its competitors, which is good business and no reflection on Food Fair Stores.

Raymond Cohen was called before the Senate labor racket committee to explain this and other activities and took the Fifth Amendment about self-incrimination, particularly as regards questions as to his own finances.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania's Attorney General, Thomas D. McBride, admitted before the same Senate committee that he had continued on the payroll of Teamsters Local 107 for two months after he was sworn into office and that he received a retainer of $1,750 for each of those months. He refused to keep the check for the third month, giving it to his old law firm, McBride, Von Moschzisker and Bradley.

He also acknowledged that he received and accepted a Christmas gift of $500 three days after he was named Attorney General by the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania. He volunteered this testimony.

The Senate committee has accused Raymond Cohen and Joseph Grace, president of the local, of being short $491,000 of union funds. McBride's testimony before the committee was that he never worked for Cohen but for the union.

New 4-Year Terms Put Zip In Ohio's Primary Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four year terms for elected state officials and senators, now serving for two years, put zip into Ohio's 1958 primary election campaigns.

The prospect of longer terms, approved earlier by voters, brought out a large field of Democratic nomination contenders, hopeful of routing entrenched Republicans from the statehouse next fall.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicts about 950,000 Ohioans will vote next Tuesday in 12,498 places between 6:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. EST.

His estimate is nearly 80,000 above the total of 869,222 votes cast in the primaries of 1954, last comparable non-presidential election year. Ohio's record-high primary total was 1,535,055 votes in 1952.

Republicans count on veteran incumbents, who hold all elective administrative offices in the statehouse, to win the payoff elections Nov. 4 as a team. Most GOP candidates are virtually assured of nomination for lack of primary opposition. Few Democrats are similarly situated.

One is former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland. He is unopposed for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination and the right to face Republican U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker of Columbus next fall. Bricker, former three-term governor, is unopposed for the GOP nomination for a third six-year Senate term.

Thirty-seven Republicans and 45 Democrats are seeking nomination for Ohio's 23 seats in the U. S. House of Representatives. The Buckeye congressional delegation now is split between 17 Republicans and six Democrats.

Fourteen Republican incumbents and five Democratic incumbents are unopposed for renomination for two-year terms. One Republican and one Democrat incumbent have opposition.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, serving his 34th year in the House from the 10th district is ill in Washington but his name will appear on the primary ballot with two Republican opponents Democrats have two candidates for nomination in the 10th Congressional District.

Two Republican Ohio congressmen did not seek reelection. They are Reps. John M. Vorys of Columbus in the 12th district and Cliff Cleverger of Bryan in the Fifth District.

Major Republican interest centers in an unusual contest between Gov. C. William O'Neill of Marietta and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, brother of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, for the gubernatorial nomination.

Taft terms himself a "stand by" candidate in event O'Neill, who suffered a heart attack last Jan. 22, should be forced out by reason of health. Physicians have pronounced O'Neill recovered. He has since campaigned on his record of major highway and state institutional construction without new or increased taxes. Before he became governor last year, O'Neill served three terms as attorney general and six as state representative.

Taft said he would not campaign against O'Neill but would not prevent friends from doing it for him. They are actively urging Taft's nomination. He was the unsuccessful GOP nominee for governor in 1952. The former Cincinnati mayor is a member of that city's charter faction composed of Democrats and independent-minded Republicans.

On the Democratic side, seven candidates are scrambling for the gubernatorial nomination. They include Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor, who lost to O'Neill two years ago and to Bricker in the 1952 senatorial test, DiSalle, ex-President Truman's price controller in Washington, ran second in a field of seven for the 1950 U. S. senatorial nomination.

Other candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this year are: Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, Ohio State University trustee and former state Supreme Court judge; Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland, former state senator; Albert S. Porter of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County engineer; Maynard E. Sensenbrenner, Columbus mayor; Clingan Jackson, Youngstown newspaperman and member of the state Pardon and Parole Commission, and Mrs. Vivienne Suarez of Columbus, mother of five children.

Seven Democrats also are vying for nomination for lieutenant governor. They are: John Donahey of Alliance, son of the late state auditor, Governor and U. S. Sen. A. V. (Vic) Donahey; John J. Gallagher of Cleveland, former state representative; Roy Hopple, Columbus attorney; Albert T. Ball of Cleveland, former legislative candidate; Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland, unsuccessful candidate for various state offices; Frank E. Smith, former Portsmouth postmaster, and John W. Peck of Cincinnati, former common pleas judge.

Republican Paul M. Herbert, seeking nomination for a sixth term as lieutenant governor, is opposed by Dr. Joseph M. Centanni, Cleveland Heights chiropractor.

Secretary of State Brown is unopposed for the Republican nomination for a fifth term. The unopposed Democrat for nomination to that office is Archer Sweeney, Salem attorney.

Secretary of State Brown is unopposed for the GOP nomination for a fifth term. Two Democrats seek the right to oppose him in November. They are Joseph T. Ferguson, former state auditor defeated in the 1950 senatorial race by "Bob" Taft, and John Brown, Lake County nurseryman who made an unsuccessful bid for nomination two years ago.

William Saxbe, former House speaker, is unopposed for renomination as attorney general on the GOP ticket. Democrats seeking nomination for that office are Paul F. Ward of Columbus, the nominee in 1952 and 1954; Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state legislator, and Marion A. Ross of Columbus, unsuccessful aspirant in 1956.

Candidates for state Supreme Court judge are unopposed for nomination in both parties. Republicans are Judge James G. Stewart of Cincinnati for another six-year term starting next Jan. 2 and Willard D. Campbell of Columbus, nominee for chief justice two years ago, for the Jan. 1 term. Democrats are veteran Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of Springfield, for the Jan. 1 term, and Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus for the Jan. 2 term. Brothers was an unsuccessful nominee for Supreme Court judge in 1956.

Voters also will pick nominees for 33 state Senate seats and 139 in the Ohio House. Terms of representatives are for two years. Those in the Senate will be split between two and four-year terms so that in 1960 all senators can be elected to four-year terms on a staggered basis.

Party nominees also will be selected for appellate and common pleas judgeships, county commissioner, county auditor and for unexpired terms for various offices.

There will be no election for state auditor this year. The next election for auditor will be in 1960 for a two-year term. The election in 1962 will be for a four-year term so that all statewide officials can be named for concurrent four-year terms in that year.

Members of state and county central committees of both parties will be elected in the primaries.

Ohio Turnpike Traffic Climbing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Spring weather has halted a three-month decline of traffic on the Ohio Turnpike, James W. Shocknessy, turnpike chairman says.

A preliminary audit of April revenue shows income up 11 per cent over April last year, Shocknessy said. Income reached an estimated $1 1/2 million, $123,000 more than April, 1957.

"The April experience," Shocknessy said, "would seem to indicate that the decrease in traffic during the first quarter was due less to economic conditions than to winter's severity."

Emmy-Winning Star Says She's 'Still Riding Cloud 9'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'm still riding on Cloud 9," said Ann B. Davis. But she came down to earth for a moment to explain how she got up there.

She's been riding high since she won a TV Academy award a fortnight ago as the best supporting actress in television. As any fan of the Bob Cummings Show can tell you, she is Schultz, long-suffering secretary of the rakish photographer.

Four years ago, Ann was working in the Christmas card line of a local department store. She graduated to a revue in a tiny Hollywood theater. There was no salary attached.

"I figured anywhere I went from there would be an improvement," she cracked. But she doubtless never suspected that she'd make the grade as an award winning actress.

Ann admitted an affinity for comedy at an early age. Born in Schenectady, N. Y., and reared in Erie, Pa., she long had a notion she wanted to act, especially for laughs. For the first few years of her career, she got little else.

"I played in all kinds of theaters, even a tent show," she recalled. "I got $20 a week. Later, it was raised to $25 because I was a good kid and helped put up the tent."

She came West in '49, seeking gold at the Porterfield, Calif., barn theater. There was little to be found, but the experience was great. She continued prospecting in Monterey and San Francisco theaters before trying her luck in Hollywood.

"In between, I worked in the 5 and 10, waited tables—the whole bit," she said. "Sure, it was a tough way up, but there's one good thing about it: You feel so grateful when the good things do start happening to you."

She has made 134 of the Cummings shows and couldn't be happier. She'd like it to go on forever. Of course, TV shows never do, and she has given the future some thought. Her great ambition is to do a Broadway play. Then there is the possibility of her own TV series.

The Brazilian economy is based on coffee, since sales of beans make up 70 per cent of the government's foreign income.

First U.S.-Published Bible To Be Cited in Philadelphia

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Staff Writer

Bewigged congressmen thumbed through the bulky little volume. Occasional nods showed they approved "the pious and laudable undertaking of Mr. Aitken."

They thought so highly of it, in fact, that at the earliest opportunity they resolved officially to "recommend this edition of the Bible to the inhabitants of the United States."

"To my knowledge, it's the only time an edition of the Bible has ever been recommended by act of Congress," says Dr. James Z. Nettinga of the American Bible Society.

Robert Aitken's little Bible, the first published in America in the English language, will be spotlighted next week at the annual meeting of the Bible Society in Philadelphia.

The society, meeting outside

New York for the first time in 52 years, will present a commemorative plaque to the city of Philadelphia, the home and workshop of printer Aitken.

The Aitken Bible with its unique congressional endorsement grew out of the curious fact that, even today, the King James Bible cannot be published in British domains without specific crown approval.

Came the American Revolution and the supply of Crown-approved scriptures dried up at the source, an unfortunate development for colonists who literally lived by the Book.

The situation was made to order for Aitken, a Scottish-born Quaker and a red-hot rebel.

As the official printer of the Journals of Congress, Aitken was friend and confidante of congressmen. He asked them for money to print an American Bible but money was one thing they couldn't give him.

Finally, in 1782, Aitken's enthusiasm overcame his fiscal sense. He brought out his 1,400-odd page Bible himself.

It is not known for a certainty how many copies Aitken printed of his Bible. The best estimate is 40,400. There was only one printing.

The last time anyone counted, in 1940, there were only 50 copies of the Aitken Bible in existence.

New 4-Year Terms Put Zip In Ohio's Primary Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four year terms for elected state officials and senators, now serving for two years, put zip into Ohio's 1958 primary election campaigns.

The prospect of longer terms, approved earlier by voters, brought out a large field of Democratic nomination contenders, hopeful of routing entrenched Republicans from the statehouse next fall.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicts about 950,000 Ohioans will vote next Tuesday in 12,498 polling places between 6:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. EST.

His estimate is nearly 80,000 above the total of 869,222 votes cast in the primaries of 1954, last comparable non-presidential election year. Ohio's record-high primary total was 1,535,055 votes in 1952.

Republicans count on veteran incumbents, who hold all elective administrative offices in the statehouse, to win the payoff elections Nov. 4 as a team. Most GOP candidates are virtually assured of nomination for lack of primary opposition. Few Democrats are similarly situated.

One is former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland. He is unopposed for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination and the right to face Republican U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker of Columbus next fall. Bricker, former three-term governor, is unopposed for the GOP nomination for a third six-year Senate term.

Thirty-seven Republicans and 45 Democrats are seeking nomination for Ohio's 23 seats in the U. S. House of Representatives. The Buckeye congressional delegation now is split between 17 Republicans and six Democrats.

Fourteen Republican incumbents and five Democratic incumbents are unopposed for renomination for two-year terms. One Republican and one Democrat incumbent have opposition.

Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, serving his 34th year in the House from the 10th district is ill in Washington but his name will appear on the primary ballot with two Republican opponents Democrats have two candidates for nomination in the 10th Congressional District.

Two Republican Ohio congressmen did not seek reelection. They are Reps. John M. Vorys of Columbus in the 12th district and Cliff Clevenger of Bryan in the Fifth District.

Major Republican interest centers in an unusual contest between Gov. C. William O'Neill of Marietta and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, brother of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, for the gubernatorial nomination.

Taft terms himself a "stand by" candidate in event O'Neill, who suffered a heart attack last Jan. 22, should be forced out by reason of health. Physicians have pronounced O'Neill recovered. He has since campaigned on his record of major highway and state institutional construction without new or increased taxes. Before he became governor last year, O'Neill served three terms as attorney general and six as state representative.

Taft said he would not campaign against O'Neill but would not prevent friends from doing it for him. They are actively urging Taft's nomination. He was the unsuccessful GOP nominee for governor in 1952. The former Cincinnati mayor is a member of that city's charter-faction composed of Democrats and independent-minded Republicans.

On the Democratic side, seven candidates are scrambling for the gubernatorial nomination. They include Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor, who lost to O'Neill two years ago and to Bricker in the 1952 senatorial test, DiSalle, ex-President Truman's price controller in Washington, ran second in a field of seven for the 1950 U. S. senatorial nomination.

Other candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this year are: Robert N. Gorman of Cincinnati, Ohio State University trustee and former state Supreme Court judge; Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland, former state senator; Albert S. Porter of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County engineer; Maynard E. Sensesbrenner, Columbus mayor; Clingan Jackson, Youngstown newspaperman and member of the state Pardon and Parole Commission, and Mrs. Vivienne Suarez of Columbus, mother of five children.

Seven Democrats also are vying for nomination for lieutenant governor. They are: John Donahey of Alliance, son of the late state auditor, Governor and U. S. Sen. A. V. (Vic) Donahey; John J. Gallagher of Cleveland, former state representative; Roy Hopple, Columbus attorney; Albert T. Ball of Cleveland, former legislative candidate; Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland, unsuccessful candidate for various state offices; Frank E. Smith, former Portsmouth postmaster, and John W. Peck of Cincinnati, former common pleas judge.

Republican Paul M. Herbert, seeking nomination for a sixth term as lieutenant governor, is opposed by Dr. Joseph M. Centanni, Cleveland Heights chiropractor.

Secretary of State Brown is unopposed for the Republican nomination for a fifth term. The unopposed Democrat for nomination to that office is Archer Sweeney, Salem attorney.

Four years ago, Ann was working in the Christmas card line of a local department store. She graduated to a revue in a tiny Hollywood theater. There was no salary attached.

William Saxbe, former House speaker, is unopposed for renomination as attorney general on the GOP ticket. Democrats seeking nomination for that office are Paul F. Ward of Columbus, the nominee in 1952 and 1954; Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state legislator, and Marion A. Ross of Columbus, unsuccessful aspirant in 1956.

Candidates for state Supreme Court judge are unopposed for nomination in both parties. Republicans are Judge James G. Stewart of Cincinnati for another six-year term starting next Jan. 2 and Willard D. Campbell of Columbus, nominee for chief justice two years ago, for the Jan. 1 term. Democrats are veteran Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of Springfield, for the Jan. 1 term, and Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus for the Jan. 2 term. Brothers was an unsuccessful nominee for Supreme Court judge in 1956.

Voters also will pick nominees for 33 state Senate seats and 139 in the Ohio House. Terms of representatives are for two years. Those in the Senate will be split between two and four-year terms so that in 1960 all senators can be elected to four-year terms on a staggered basis.

Party nominees also will be selected for appellate and common pleas judgeships, county commissioner, county auditor and for unexpired terms for various offices.

There will be no election for state auditor this year. The next election for auditor will be in 1960 for a two-year term. The election in 1962 will be for a four-year term so that all statehouse officials can be named for concurrent four-year terms in that year.

Members of state and county central committees of both parties will be elected in the primaries.

Ohio Turnpike Traffic Climbing

CLEVELAND (AP)—Spring weather has halted a three-month decline of traffic on the Ohio Turnpike, James W. Shocknessy, turnpike chairman says.

A preliminary audit of April revenue shows income up 11 per cent over April last year, Shocknessy said. Income reached an estimated $1 1/2 million, $123,000 more than April, 1957.

"The April experience," Shocknessy said, "would seem to indicate that the decrease in traffic during the first quarter was due less to economic conditions than to winter's severity."

NAZARENE GUESTS — Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Leist are leading special revival services being held at the local Nazarene Church each evening until May 5. Dr. Leist is professor of Biblical Literature at Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. Mrs. Leist will assist her husband with selections on the vibra-harp.

Emmy-Winning Star Says She's 'Still Riding Cloud 9'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'm still riding on Cloud 9," said Ann B. Davis. But she came down to earth for a moment to explain how she got up there.

She's been riding high since she won a TV Academy award a fortnight ago as the best supporting actress in television. As any fan of the Bob Cummings Show can tell you, she is Schultz, long-suffering secretary of the rakish photographer.

Four years ago, Ann was working in the Christmas card line of a local department store. She graduated to a revue in a tiny Hollywood theater. There was no salary attached.

Brazil Boosts Coffee Exports

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil shipped 1,200,000 bags of coffee in April, compared with 700,000 bags in April, 1957, Finance Minister Jose Maria Alkmin says.

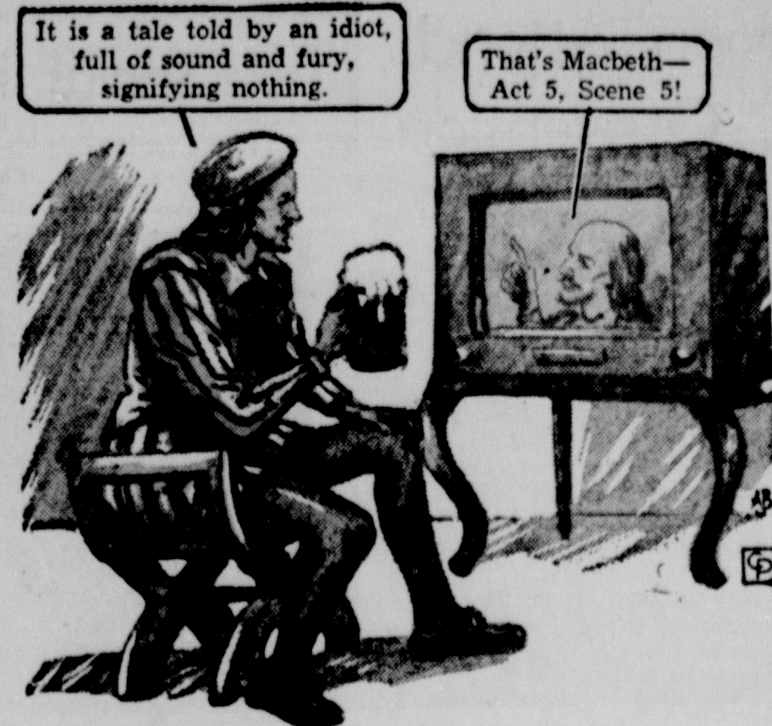

This, he said, is clear cut evidence that Brazil's economic problems have been overcome. He did not touch on the question of overproduction, which has made it necessary for the government to buy up the surplus in order to maintain coffee prices on the world market.

The Brazilian economy is based on coffee, since sales of beans make up 70 per cent of the government's foreign income.

Question Is TV or Not TV

By JERRY KLEIN
Written for Central Press

William Shakespeare had long before "shuffled off this mortal coil" (Hamlet) by the time television was developed. However, the Bard of Avon would have made a first-rate TV critic as the following quotes from his plays prove:

"What noise is that?"—Anthony and Cleopatra.
"Music do I hear?"—King John.
"Loud music is too much for ladies' heads."—Pericles.
"Will you go hear this news?"—Much Ado About Nothing.
"Are you a comedian?"—Twelfth Night.
"Poor gentleman, take up some other station."—Coriolanus.
"A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse!"—Richard III.
"How likest thou this picture?"—Timon of Athens.
"The saddest spectacle that I ever viewed."—Henry VI.
"Behold this pattern of thy butcheries."—Richard III.
"I think the dial points at five."—Comedy of Errors.
"You shall have such receiving as shall become your highness."—Winter's Tale.
"To glad your ear and please your eyes."—Pericles.
"Tis no matter how it be in tune, so it make noise enough."—As You Like It.
"What face remains alive that's worth the viewing?"—Venus and Adonis.
"Here is the place appointed for the wrestling and they are ready to perform it."—As You Like It.
"Better three hours too soon than a minute too late."—Merry Wives of Windsor.
"What, out of hearing? Gone? No sound?"—Midsummer Night's Dream.
"Let me cut the cable."—Anthony and Cleopatra.
"It hath been the longest night that e'er I watched."—Two Gentlemen of Verona.

First U.S.-Published Bible To Be Cited in Philadelphia

By TOM HENSHAW

Associated Press Staff Writer
Bewigged congressmen thumbed through the bulky little volume. Occasional nods showed they approved "the pious and laudable undertaking of Mr. Aitken."

They thought so highly of it, in fact, that at the earliest opportunity they resolved officially to "recommend this edition of the Bible to the inhabitants of the United States."

"To my knowledge, it's the only time an edition of the Bible has ever been recommended by act of Congress," says Dr. James Z. Netting of the American Bible Society.

Robert Aitken's little Bible, the first published in America in the English language, will be spotlighted next week at the annual meeting of the Bible Society in Philadelphia.

The society, meeting outside

Daily Bible School Planned for June

The dates for the "Daily Vacation Bible School" are set for June 2-13. Registration cards are now available and can be secured from the Sunday School teachers or from the church office, or in the vestibule of the church.

Children who were in Kindergarten this school year, on through all the grades including sixth grade are eligible to register. A nursery will be provided for all small children of those who will be teaching in the school.

The school will be held each morning Monday through Friday from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. The school will not be limited to Methodist children only, but is open for all children in the community who have no church affiliation, or whose church does not provide a Daily Vacation Bible School.

New York for the first time in 52 years, will present a commemorative plaque to the city of Philadelphia, the home and workshop of printer Aitken.

The Aitken Bible with its unique congressional endorsement grew out of the curious fact that, even today, the King James Bible cannot be published in British domains without specific crown approval.

Came the American Revolution and the supply of Crown-approved scriptures dried up at the source, an unfortunate development for colonists who literally lived by the Book.

The situation was made to order for Aitken, a Scottish-born Quaker and a red-hot rebel.

As the official printer of the Journals of Congress, Aitken was friend and confidante of congressmen. He asked them for money to print an American Bible but money was one thing they couldn't give him.

Finally, in 1782, Aitken's enthusiasm overcame his fiscal sense. He brought out his 1,400-odd page Bible himself.

It is not known for a certainty how many copies Aitken printed of his Bible. The best estimate is 40,400. There was only one printing.

The last time anyone counted, in 1940, there were only 50 copies of the Aitken Bible in existence.

Local EUB Women's Groups Attend Annual Convention

On April 30-May 1, the Seventh Annual Convention of the Women's Society of World Service of the Ohio South East Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church met at First EUB Church in Westerville, Ohio. About 430 delegates and visitors were present.

She described the social, political, and religious changes that had taken place during the term of their service as missionaries in Japan.

Mrs. Mayer stated that although at present there are only one half of one percent of the Japanese people who are active Christians, there's a great deal sympathy and growing interest throughout the country for the Christian religion.

At the invitation of the Emperor of Japan, the Mayers were granted an audience in the Imperial Palace. As an outcome of this interview the Mayers are convinced of the sympathetic interest of the Emperor and Empress and they feel that soon a strong upsurge for Christianity will be seen, greatly increasing the percentage of Christians in Japan.

Local EUB Women's Groups Attend Annual Convention

On April 30-May 1, the Seventh Annual Convention of the Women's Society of World Service of the Ohio South East Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church met at First EUB Church in Westerville, Ohio. About 430 delegates and visitors were present.

there's a great deal sympathy and growing interest throughout the country for the Christian religion.

At the invitation of the Emperor of Japan, the Mayers were granted an audience in the Imperial Palace. 'Mudcats' Grant Sews Up No. 2 Pitching Spot

Cleveland's Rookie Records His Third Victory of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It looks as though Jim "Mudcat" Grant, a rookie righthander with a fast ball, is Cleveland's No. 2 man as the Indians build a successor to the big four pitching staff of Feller, Lemon, Wynn and Garcia.

Mudcat, a 22-year-old 6-footer who is unbeaten, ranks right behind southpaw ace Herb Score after gaining his third complete game victory Friday night with a six-hitter that beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-1.

The kid from Lacombe, Fla., who also springs a curve ball, leads the Indians in complete games and tops the starters with a neat 1.85 earned run average. The New York Yankees have the No. 1 pitcher in the American League for the present, however, with Bob Turley giving up but one run in 27 innings. Bob Cerv's eighth homer ended Turley's scoreless string at 19 innings, but the big right-hander gave up only three other hits in an 8-1 victory over Kansas City that padded the Yankees' lead to 1 1/2 games.

Dave Sisler gained his first shut-out in the majors with a six-hitter as Boston defeated Detroit 6-0, and Julio Becquer's 10th inning pinch-hit single gave Washington a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

Camilo Pascual won his first for the Senators, striking out 13 — counting 10 in the first four frames. Sherm Lollar drove in both Sox runs and had half their six hits. Winless Dick Donovan started for Chicago, but gave way when the Nats tied it 2-1 in the seventh. Relying on Gerry Staley gave up his first hit when Rocky Bridges doubled in the 10th.

Sisler, 4-0 against Detroit in his brief career, gave up seven singles, with Reno Bertoia and Gus Zernial each getting two. The Red Sox handed Jim Bunning his third defeat as Pete Runnels doubled home a run in the third and singled home another in a two-run seventh.

The Pittsburgh Pirates finally ran out of pitchers, and their winning streak, which ran to six and carried them to second place in the National League, has sputtered out.

After rolling along behind Bob Friend, Ron Kline, Vern Law and some surprise relief, Manager Danny Murtaugh had to turn to his rookies Friday night and they blew a 5-0 lead while losing to the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-5.

Johnny Podres of the Dodgers became the first to win four in the majors this season, with Clem Labine hurling no-hit relief after the stocky southpaw gave way with arm trouble in the sixth.

The loss plunked the Pirates to fourth, 1 1/2 games behind, while San Francisco regained second with a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia. The Chicago Cubs clung to a half-game lead by overhauling a 7-0 Milwaukee bulge and blasting the Braves 8-7. George Crowe drove in six runs for Cincinnati in a comeback 7-3 victory at St. Louis.

Veteran Marv Grissom saved 19-year-old Mike McCormick's first victory of the year for the Giants, fanning pinch-hitter Bob Bowman and Richie Ashburn and getting Rip Repulski on an infield pop with two on in the ninth. Rookie Bob Schmidt's third home run counted the clincher in the sixth off Jack Sanford, who lost his third. Repulski drove in both Phil Runk with a single and homer.

Crowe's two-run single brought the Redlegs from behind in the seventh against winless Sam Jones (0-3) and he followed with a three-run homer in the ninth. Hal Jeffcoat saved Brooks Lawrence's first victory, getting ex-Redleg Curtis Flood (just recalled from Omaha where he hit 350 to hit into a bases-loaded double-play that ended the game).

A pinch-hit three-run homer by Jim Bolger triggered a six-run seventh for the Cubs and chased Gene Conley in his first start. Then Walt Morin, who started the comeback with a home run in the sixth, belted another off loser Dick Littlefield in the ninth. Don Elston won his third in relief as the Cubs, who have tagged 11 of 6, the 13 homers given up by Milwaukee, made it three straight over the Braves. Wes Covington hit a two-run homer for the Braves in his first appearance since a spring training leg injury.

Lady Bowlers Hold Banquet In Honor of Team Winners

Members of the Ladies Wednesday Matinee Bowling League held their annual banquet this week at the Pickaway Country Club with 30 women keggers attending.

The first order of business was the election of officers for next year's league. Clara Burton was named president, Lorene Miller, vice president, Bette Reinhard, secretary, Wilma McGreggor, treasurer, and Wanda Matesky, sergeant-at-arms.

Trophies for the first place team went to the Stelle O'Hara squad. Members of the team are Stelle O'Hara, Mary Carpenter, Irene White, Dee Currie and Barbara Canning.

Betty Young was awarded a trophy for high three games and Lorene Miller was presented a similar award for single high series.

A trophy went to Wilma McGreggor as the most improved bowler and Mrs. Miller received an award for high average.

A "200" club was formed and awards were made to Mrs. O'Hara, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Young. Certificates went to the Huffer squad as low team.

The Miller team received a cash award for compiling the season's high single game.

A gift was presented to outgoing president Betty Young and each of the team captains.

Following the presentation of awards, the lady keggers enjoyed an evening of bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Young, Mrs. White and Mrs. Currie.

Bolt Takes Lead In Colonial Test

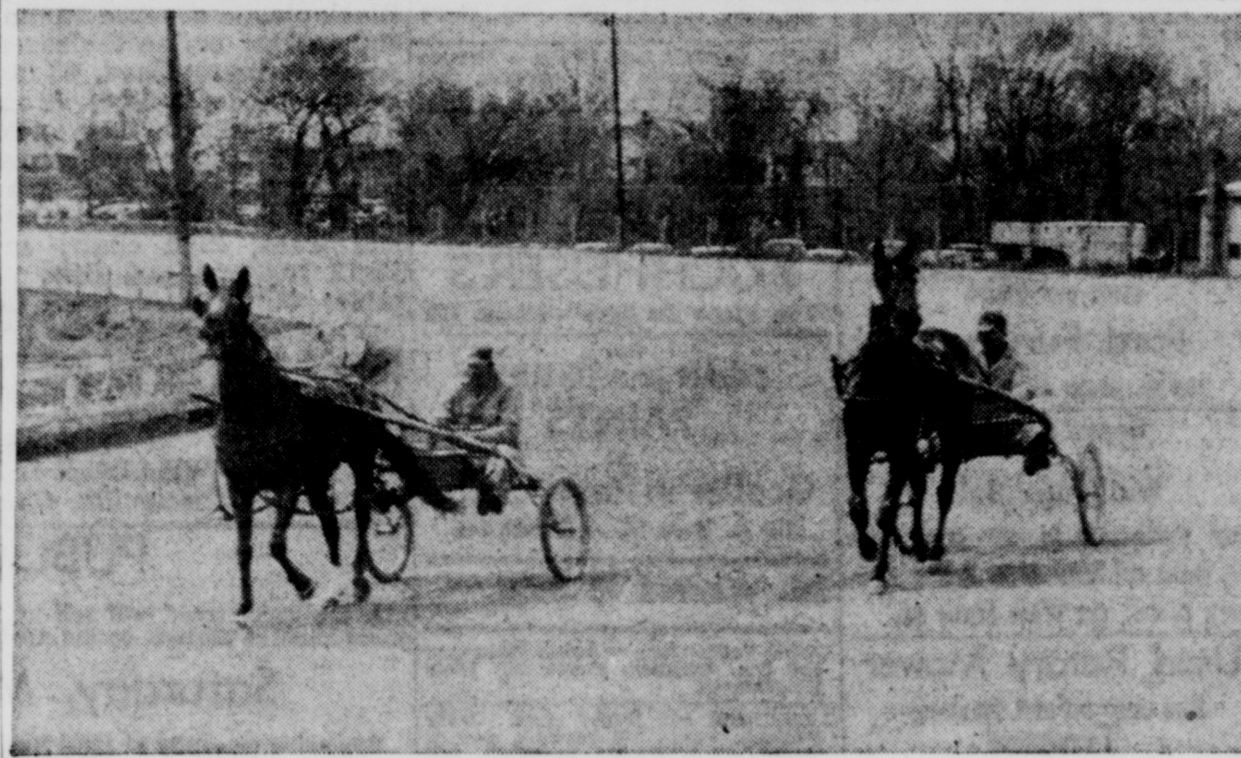

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Tommy Bolt, called "Thunder" and "Tempestuous Tommy" because of his club throwing along the golf trail, gave the fans a picture of the "new Tommy" Friday when he took over the lead in the $25,000 Colonial tournament.

The 38-year-old Bolt waded over the water-logged 7,021-yard Colonial course in par 70 — 138 for a 2-stroke lead.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., the Masters champion who tied the course record with a 5-under-par 65 in the opening round, soared to a 77-142 and a tie for fifth place. Stan Leonard, the 43-year-old balding veteran from Vancouver, Canada, fashioned a 72 and moved into undisputed second place at 140.

Williams Feels Hits Are Coming

BOSTON (AP) — Boston slugger Ted Williams, off to one of the poorest starts in his long career, feels it won't be long before the hits start dropping in for him.

"I feel good and I know I'll get going pretty soon," Ted said. "Those injuries have made it tough to get started."

Williams was far from downcast as he talked Friday before receiving the one award that had eluded him for years — the trophy as the Male Athlete of the Year.

Selected by the nation's sports-writers and sportscasters in the annual Associated Press poll in 1957, the 39-year-old Red Sox outfielder was presented the Frederick C. Miller memorial trophy.

Montreal Errs Badly, Is Defeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Even the best baseball teams play a bad game once in a while. Friday the International League's leading Montreal Royals committed four errors that let in three unearned runs were defeated 11 innings 8-7 by Miami.

Whammy Douglas limited the Royals to three hits, none after the third inning, to register his second victory.

In the only other game played, the Columbus Jets edged the Buffalo Bisons 2-1. The Rochester Redwings, scheduled to play the Richmond Virginians, were postponed because of rain and the Havana-Toronto game was postponed due to cold weather.

Finely-Tuned Colts Ready For Sensational Derby Run

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A hand-picked field of 3-year-old horses, as finely tuned as a Stradivarius, were poised today for what could be the most sensational Kentucky Derby in the 84 years of the turf classic.

After a day of bright sunshine and drying winds had made the Churchill Downs track fast, it started raining again Friday. The weatherman said three would be more of the same today.

Rain could hold the crowd well under the expected 100,000.

Post time for the 1 1/4 mile race is 4:30 p.m. It will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 4:15 to 4:45 p.m. with a 15-minute preview starting at 4 p.m.

The condition of the track will determine the size of the field. Sixteen originally were entered Thursday.

On the basis of 14 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $160,500, with a net of $116,400 to the winner. Second is worth $25,000, third $12,500 and fourth $5,000.

The possibility of an off track didn't shake the standings of the big three—Tim Tam, Jewel's Reward and Silky Sullivan. It is Silky, the flaming chestnut from California, who has turned this derby from a lack-lustre affair into one that promises to be as thrilling as any ever raced on these ancient grounds.

Trainers Jimmy Jones (Tim Tam), Ivan Parke (Jewel's Reward) and Reggie Cornell (Silky Sullivan) refused to be drawn out on a limb as to the horse to beat.

But Charlie Whittingham, trainer of Gene Fishin' predicted a track record should the going be fast.

Tim Tam and Silky probably will be 2-1 and the Maine Chance entry 7-2.

From there on take your choice: C. V. Whitney's Flamingo (12-1); Llangollen Farm's Gene Fishin' (12-1); George Lewis' Martins Rullah and Dr. Peter Graffagnino's Nouredin (20-1); W. G. Reynolds'

Warren G. Sunny Blue Farm's Lincoln Road, Mrs. Sam Wilson's Red Hot Pistol, S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer, Mrs. A. Canulli's Chance It Tony, and Mrs. A. B. Bellardi and T. L. Harkins' Benedicto (30-1).

The Devine boys of Philadelphia were basketball leaders. Bobby Devine co-captained Notre Dame last season. His other brother, Jack, captained Villanova's quintet three years ago.

Widow Creed and Jet Pride are owned by George Fissell and trained by the Mace Stable. The two horses are being worked out, which occurs twice a week during the last minute training sessions. They are going the mile on the wrong way of the track at a 2:28 pace. May 11 is the Junior Chamber of Commerce Spring Matinee, which will see all the horses housed at the Pickaway County fairgrounds compete in the opening meet of Central Ohio Harness Racing.

Williams Feels Hits Are Coming

BOSTON — Boston slugger Ted Williams, off to one of the poorest starts in his long career, feels it won't be long before his start dropping in for him.

"I feel good and I know I'll get going pretty soon," Ted said. "Those injuries have made it tough to get started."

Williams was far from downcast as he talked Friday before receiving the one award that had eluded him for years — the trophy as the Male Athlete of the Year.

Selected by the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters in the annual Associated Press poll in 1957, the 39-year-old Red Sox outfielder was presented the Frederick C. Miller memorial trophy.

Montreal Errs Badly, Is Defeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Even the best baseball teams play a bad game once in a while. Friday the International League's leading Montreal Royals committed four errors that let in three earned runs were defeated 11 innings 8-7 by Miami.

Whammy Douglas limited the Royals to three hits, none after the third inning, to register his second victory.

In the only other game played, the Columbus Jets edged the Buffalo Bisons 2-1. The Rochester Redwings, scheduled to play the Richmond Virginians, were postponed because of rain and the Havana-Toronto game was postponed due to cold weather.

Bolt Takes Lead In Colonial Test

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Tommy Bolt, called "Thunder" because of his club throwing along the golf trail, gave the fans a picture of the "new Tommy" Friday when he took over the lead in the $25,000 Colonial tournament.

The 38-year-old Bolt waded over the water-logged 7,021-yard Colonial course in par 70 — 138 for a 2-stroke lead.

Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., the Masters champion who tied the course record with a 5-under-par 65 in the opening round, soared to a 77-142 and a tie for fifth place. Stan Leonard, the 43-year-old balding veteran from Vancouver, Canada, fashioned a 72 and moved into undisputed second place at 140.

In the Derby Picture

EBONY PEARL, the Maine Chance Farm colt, with M. Ycaza up.

TIM TAM, with trainer Jimmy Jones and Ismael Valenzuela up.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A hand-picked field of 3-year-old horses, as finely tuned as a Stradivarius, were poised today for what could be the most sensational Kentucky Derby in the 84 years of the turf classic.

After a day of bright sunshine and drying winds had made the Churchill Downs track fast, it started raining again Friday. The weatherman said three would be more of the same today.

Rain could hold the crowd well under the expected 100,000.

Post time for the 1¼ mile race is 4:30 p. m. It will be televised and broadcast by CBS from 4:15 to 4:45 p. m. with a 15-minute preview starting at 4 p. m.

The condition of the track will determine the size of the field. Sixteen originally were entered Thursday.

On the basis of 14 starters, the Derby will have a gross value of $160,500, with a net of $116,400 to the winner. Second is worth $25,000, third $12,500 and fourth $5,000.

The possibility of an off track didn't shake the standings of the big three—Tim Tam, Jewel's Reward and Silky Sullivan. It is Silky, the flaming chestnut from California, who has turned this derby from a lack-lustre affair into one that promises to be as thrilling as any ever raced on these ancient grounds.

Trainers Jimmy Jones (Tim Tam), Ivan Parke (Jewel's Reward) and Reggie Cornell (Silky Sullivan) refused to be drawn out on a limb as to the horse to beat.

But Charlie Whittingham, trainer of Gone Fishin' predicted a track record should the going be fast.

Tim Tam and Silky probably will be 2-1 and the Maine Chance entry 7-2.

From there on take your choice: C. V. Whitney's Flamingo (12-1); Liangollen Farm's Gone Fishin' (12-1); George Lewis' Martins Rullah and Dr. Peter Graffagno's Nouredin (20-1); W. G. Reynolds'

Warren G., Sunny Blue Farm's Lincoln Road, Mrs. Sam Wilson's Red Hot Pistol, S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer, Mrs. A. Cannulli's Chance It Tony, and Mrs. A. B. Bellardi and T. L. Harkins' Benedicto (30-1).

The Devine boys of Philadelphia were basketball leaders. Bobby Devine co-captained Notre Dame last season. His other brother, Jack, captained Villanova's quintet three years ago.

Vote For And Support Judge Vernon Smith For JUDGE of the Court of Appeals of the Fourth Judicial District

Judge Vernon Smith was born near Otway, Scioto County, Ohio. He attended New Boston schools, graduating from Portsmouth High School at the age of 18. Studying at night, at the age of 18 he received a teaching certificate, continuing his education through extension courses and summer school. While serving as County Recorder, he continued his study of law and was admitted to practice. He then was elected Judge of the Probate and Juvenile Courts, and in 1942 was elected Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Scioto County, where he is now serving his third term. Altogether, Judge Smith has served more than 25 years in the courts. In this time Judge Smith has heard and disposed of more than 15,000 cases. The experience thus acquired gives him an abundance of knowledge that is essential to the proper performance of the duties of the Court of Appeals.

Coupled with this knowledge, the experience gained by Judge Smith in his endeavors to secure an education have so implanted in his mind and character the spirit of compassion of the less fortunate that he is able to deal with all who come before him in a kindly, humane, courteous and just fashion. As evidence of the high regard in which Judge Smith is held, in 1940, with opposition he carried every precinct in the county, and since, though unopposed, has led the ticket.

Examine the record, both public and private, and I am sure your examination will lead you to the conclusion that Judge Smith should represent you as Judge of the Court of Appeals of the Fourth Judicial District.

Signed — Gilbert Heisel, Chairman Portsmouth, Ohio

George Crowe Unlimbers To Lead Redlegs

ST. LOUIS — Manager Birdie Tebbetts thinks first sacker George Crowe has better against some pitchers than others. But when the slugger has a hot streak, he hits well against anyone.

Take Friday night, for example. He lifted the Redlegs from behind with a two-run single in the seventh inning and then blasted a three-run homer in the ninth that sealed the scoring in a 7-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Another single in the third inning accounted for another run.

A good night, you might say, for a 35-year-old player who started the season with two other men eager to take over his job. His competitors, Steve Bilko and Dee Fondy, are still around.

Friday night's victory boosted Cincinnati up to the National League's No. 3 spot and pulled Crowe up among the league's 10 best hitters, with a .357 average.

Before the Reds nailed down the victory, there were plenty of offensive fireworks, including Don Hoak's second inning home run that touched off the scoring.

The Cards loaded the bases with a double, a hit batsman and Hoak's muff of what looked like a ball destined for a double play in the second. Two St. Louis runs scored when Reds' pitcher Brooks Lawrence booted a bunt and the third scored while Cincinnati was busy with a putout.

OHIO OUTDOORS

from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

The recreational facilities of Catawba Island State Park are being greatly expanded by the construction of new boat launching ramps, an approach road, and a parking lot, according to V. W. Flickinger, chief of the Ohio Division of Parks.

Costing almost $10,000, the two new boat launching ramps and an attached 45 foot dock will be ready for use about June 1. They will replace the single launching ramp formerly available, and should speed up launching operations during the summer season at this popular Lake Erie park.

Parking facilities for cars and boat trailers will be expanded about four-fold with the completion of the new parking lot now under construction. Included in this project is the addition of 1200 feet of approach roadway for a new total of 1800 feet. The cost of this project is $10,400 with construction slated for completion by July 1.

These improvements will help to speed boat launching, provide a place for boaters to park their cars and trailers, and will free the area roads from the hazardous overcrowding which has been present on busy week ends in the past.

THE NEW facilities will enable 200 to 300 boats to be launched and removed on the busiest days. It will stop the usual lineup and two to three hour waiting period which has been common in the past, according to Kenneth Landon, Catawba Island Park manager. The increased popularity of boating has swollen the number of launchings on summer weekends from 10 or 12 boats ten years ago to the present peak.

Additional facilities for the comfort of visitors to this park include the construction of 2 drinking fountains, one in the picnic area and one in the public fishing dock, at a cost of $1500. This construction is due for completion by June 1.

The Division of Parks has designed the improved area, drawn up the plans and specifications, surveyed the area and is handling the engineering. They will also inspect the construction during the building period.

Hayden W. Olds, chief of Ohio Division of Wildlife, which is providing the funds for construction, stated, "Total expenditures for this area will be in the neighborhood of $21,700. The results of our efforts should mean better service and more enjoyment for Ohio's outdoor minded people."

According to John Z. Pelton, Supervisor of the Fish Management Section, Ohio Division of Wildlife, a new edition of the popular How and Where to Fish bulletin with a brand new title, "Fishing's Fun For Everyone" is now available by writing to Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Rd., Columbus.

This publication was compiled and edited by Merrill C. Gillilan of the Information and Education Section of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and is a gold mine of information on all types of fishing.

HE SAID Ohio's turkey project now consists of obtaining wild trapped turkeys from other states and stocking them in Ohio. According to the technician, 43 turkeys, 11 gobblers and 32 hens, have been obtained from Texas, West Virginia, Florida and Missouri. They have been stocked in southern Ohio's Vinton, Scioto, Ross and Lawrence Counties.

When the turkey project first began in 1952, game management operations centered around efforts to reproduce turkeys at state hatcheries. The tamer birds were easy enough to rear, but after they were released many of them ended up in barnyards, ready to be fed from the hand.

What good are barnyard turkeys to Ohio sportsmen, game managers surmised. So they switched tactics two years ago and began working strictly with wild trapped birds.

According to Knoder, propagation of wild trapped turkeys is a specialized operation involving many complications. He said wild turkeys are hard to obtain because states, where the birds still survive, are reluctant to give them up. Moreover, the birds are extremely nervous and quickly die of shock when carelessly handled or transported.

Another factor to consider after the turkeys are released is how they will fare against Ohio predators. Foxes are the chief enemy of the adult turkey, Knoder contends. But skunks, raccoons, opossums, snakes, crows and owls are natural predators of turkey eggs and poults (young turkeys).

In spite of the obstacles confronting game managers, the turkey project appears encouraging. Hunters, farmers and foresters have spotted turkeys in the field. Proof that the birds actually are reproducing came last year when the remains of a turkey nest, complete with cracked egg shells, was found.

"PERHAPS" we'll have enough turkey in Ohio for a hunting season within six years," the game technician commented.

Costing 25 cents, the booklet emphasizes the adventure and fun that can be found while fishing in the waters of Ohio. Full of useful information, it discusses such topics as fishing methods, types of tackle, best localities, weather signs, fish identification and how to prepare the catch after it is landed.

These are articles by some of the top outdoor writers and fishermen in the state of Ohio, and it is almost a must for every tackle box.

As Gillilan puts it in his editorial, "The reader should not feel that we are guaranteed better fishing luck... We do believe that... there's fishing fun for everyone in Ohio."

Division of wildlife field men and other cooperators are busy this time of year conducting a nighttime census—the only game in Ohio taken after nightfall.

They drive along remote roads listening for sounds that strongly resemble the well-known Bronx cheer. This is a mating call of the male woodcock, one of Ohio's top game birds.

THE AMOROUS male birds sing from definite fixed positions or singing grounds. Stops are made by the census taker at half mile intervals, beginning at dusk and lasting for approximately 40 minutes, to listen for this unusual outdoor sound.

By counting the number of occupied singing grounds, it is possible to determine the trend of the breeding woodcock population.

The wild turkey appears to be making a comeback in Ohio. Gene Knoder, wildlife division technician working on a project to re-establish the game bird, said today habitat destruction caused the turkey to disappear from Ohio in 1880.

"But restoration of forest cover in the southern part of the state has produced habitat where the game bird may survive," Knoder added.

Moore Says Conditioning Is Important

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Conditioning makes the difference. Archie Moore was the first to say it after winning a 10-round split decision from Willie Besmanoff Friday night. It was Moore's 11th straight victory.

"That boy was in good condition. He gave me plenty of trouble. You know how it is when you have to jump in as a substitute," explained the 41-year-old light heavyweight champion.

He agreed to take on Besmanoff, ranked eighth among the heavies, after Gene Fullmer cancelled his appearance here because of a kidney infection.

Moore, whose 196 pounds seemed concentrated around his midsection, was puffing after the first two rounds. In the third, he managed to drop Besmanoff, 191, with a sizzling right as the bell sounded. There was no count.

Shaken by the blow, Besmanoff stayed away until the seventh when a combination right and left rocked Archie.

Besmanoff, 25, had a 37-10-7 record going into Friday night's bout. Judge Walter Beck gave Moore the fight by a margin of 49 points to 45. Judge Tom Nuckles scored it 47-43 for Moore and referee Dan Leslie marked his card for Besmanoff, 45-44.

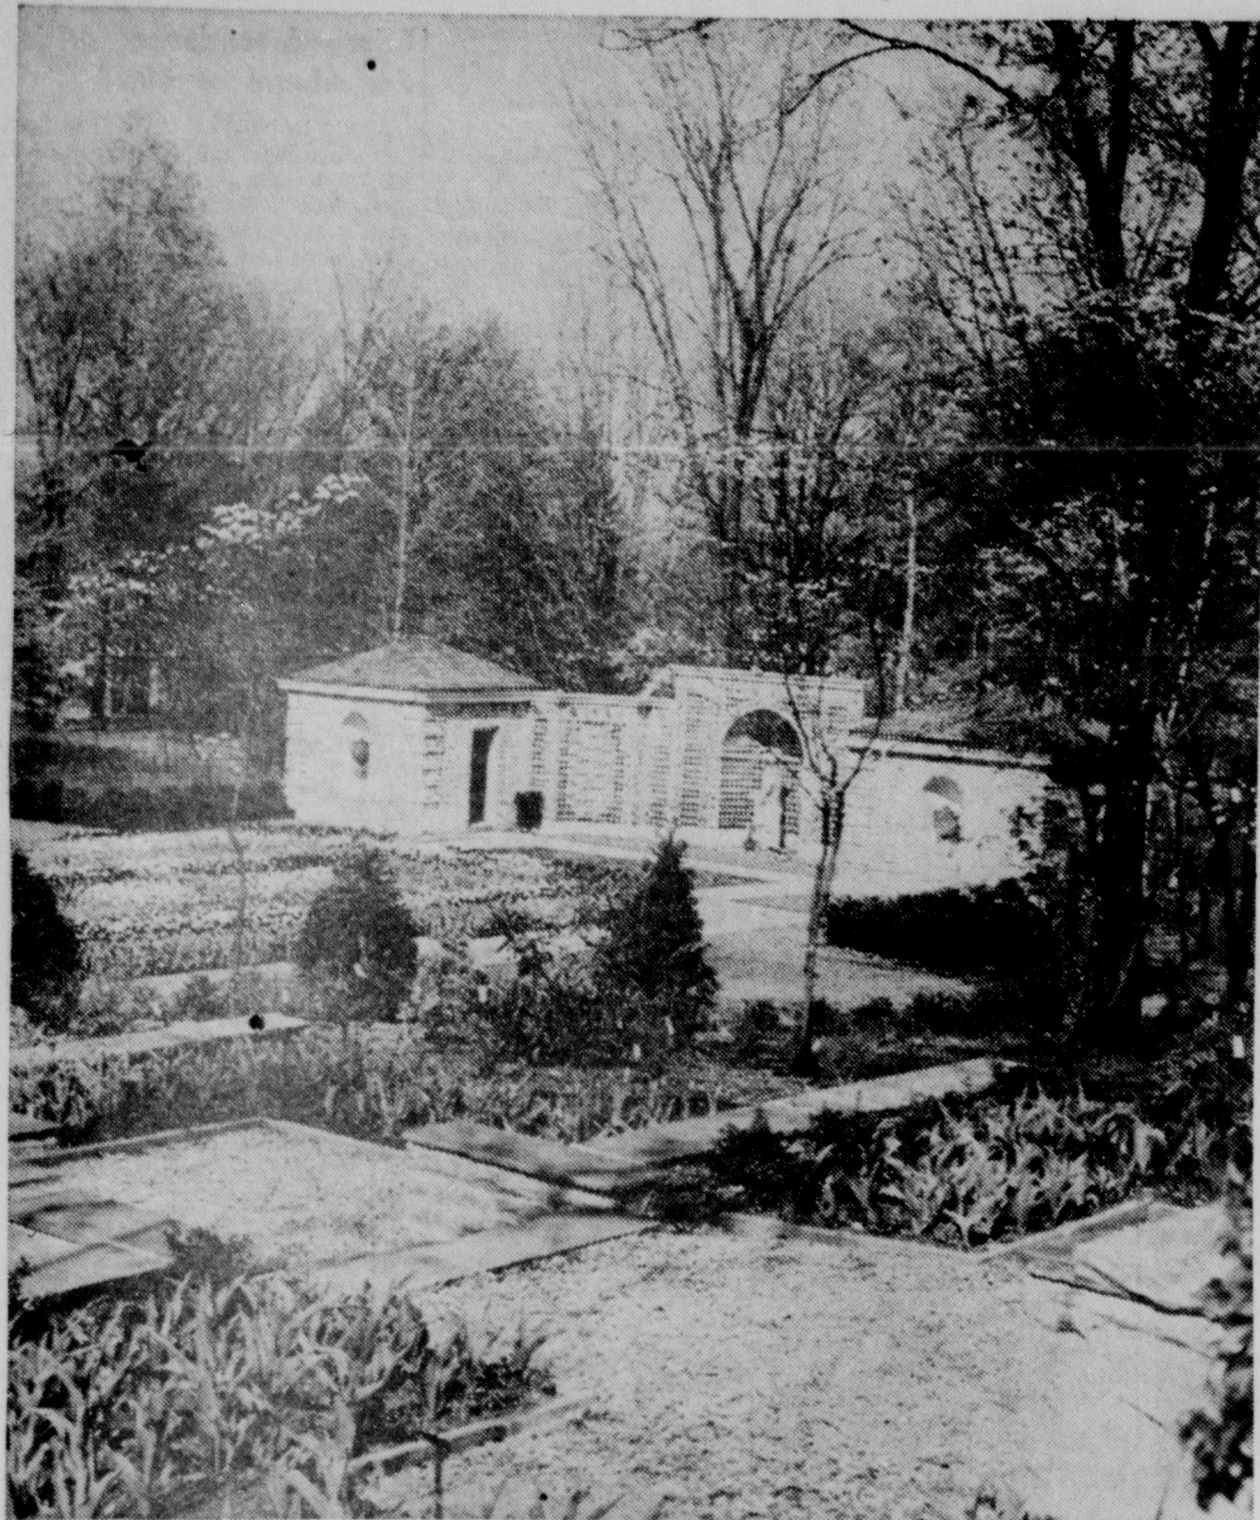

Frisco Attendance Far Ahead of 1957

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco baseball Giants passed 200,000 in home attendance Friday night in just half as many games as it took them to do it in New York last season.

The 13,486 fans who attended the game with Philadelphia brought the Giants' attendance to 203,629 in 13 games in their new city. They have averaged 15,663.

Yankee outfielder Norm Siebern made his first hit of the 1958 season an inside-the-park home run in Yankee Stadium.

KINGWOOD CENTER — The first two weeks in May are designated as tulip time at Kingwood Center, Mansfield. If you're interested in tulips, a visit to Mansfield at this time is a "must".

Kingwood Florist Praises All Tulips

Carlton B. Lees, Kingwood Center horticulturist, says that if you want a spectacular, foolproof, almost indestructible flower of every imaginable color plant tulips. Lees should know because at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, there are 100,000 tulips planted each fall. These bulbs are imported from Dutch bulb growers and visitors by the thousands flock to the center at tulip time every spring.

Lees says a tulip bulb is a whole plant, flowers, leaves, stem and roots—all condensed into a structure, so protective that it is almost impossible to keep it from blooming. "What other plant," he asks, "is a capsule that packs such a wonderful explosion?"

He says if you are a procrastinating gardener you may plant them as late as December and January.

BECAUSE tulips have such a marvelous range of color, Lees suggests that fanciers visit Kingwood Center where they may learn the names of the tulips and see their striking colors.

After tulips have bloomed, Lees says to cut off the old flower to prevent seed from forming. If the flower stem is cut off just above the topmost leaf it is not too unattractive.

Encourage top growth by keeping the soil moist and sprinkling a complete fertilizer around the plants when they first come up in early spring, he pointed out.

Lees reminds us that leaves are food factories as long as they are green. The longer they remain green the more food will be produced and the better will be the flower.

Lees suggests that arrangers spare the tulip stem and foliage if they do not plan to use them in the arrangement. He says that it makes little sense cut stem and foliage and throw them away.

"For a good display of tulips don't plan on keeping the bulbs forever," says Lees. "Plant a few new bulbs each year. Leave them in the ground three years and then throw them away. It's not worthwhile to nurse along second rate bulbs."

It is interesting to know that new bulbs are planted each year at Kingwood Center and the old ones destroyed. These gardens are, of course, for display purposes.

Veteran Gardener Praises Daylilies for Gardens

Mrs. Orion King, 148 W. High St., veteran gardener and iris grower, admits that the more she sees of daylilies the higher is her regard for them.

"Of course," says Mrs. King, "they are not so good for arrangements because they only last one day. But they are an excellent garden plant."

Mrs. King has a large collection of hermocallis and intends to increase the number of her varieties. Many other Pickaway County gardeners are fast becoming daylily fanciers.

Frank McVickers of the WilliamSPORT community, we have been told, is regarded as an authority in the layly category.

IN FACT the gardening world in recent years has witnessed a spectacular rise in the popularity of daylilies.

Formerly only a healthy weed, today the daylily is a prized garden possession, available in an infinite number of varieties and colors.

The current issue of Flower and Garden magazine carries a forum giving complete information on the planting, cultivation and care of daylilies, showing how the different varieties are best used in landscaping.

Preferred planting seasons for these hardy perennials are spring and fall, covering the light green line above the roots with one or two inches of soil and spacing plants two or three feet apart.

Low-growing sorts such as Baronet, Red Token and Purple Haze can be placed in front of borders, as edgings for taller plants or as pool-side plantings.

The medium-sized group, which includes the bulk of varieties, can be grown almost anywhere. There are taller plants for service areas and near walls and fences.

SEVERAL established and reliable varieties that are proved favorites with daylily growers are named in Flower and Garden.

These include Hesperus, Potentate, Ruffled Pinaree and Colonial Dame. Also listed are a number of evening blooming varieties that are in full flower from late afternoon to mid-morning such as Royal Ruby and Yellowstone.

Tulips Noted In History

The Turks had a name for it. They called it "lale." But the Dutch got themselves confused about the name.

Supposedly, a Turkish sailor in the late 16th century smuggled in some bulbs in his turban. He called his headgear "tulipan." So, some good Hollander called the tulips "tulpen." This was the plural form.

The singular is "tulip" which they pronounce as two syllables making it sound like "tulip." What should have been something akin to "lily," became "tulip" in English.

Less than a half century later the tulip almost upset the entire economy of the Netherlands. The Dutch were in the period of their "Great Glory," as their historians put it. They led the world not only in exploration and commerce but in the arts as well.

IN 1636 the staid burghers succumbed to a mass hysteria that has since been referred to as their "Great Folly."

They went literally wild about tu-

Kingston Lady Is Gifted with Tulip Luck

Mrs. Carrie Holderman, one of Kingston's old time gardeners with a reputation for a green thumb, was perfectly willing to discuss her success with tulips.

Mrs. Holderman can no longer take an active part in garden work because she is confined to her chair indoors. But her interest in flowers is as keen as it ever was.

Most people, no matter how much they love tulips, admit that tulips "play out" in just a few years. What was an impressive tulip planting one year may be a quite forlorn planting the next.

But Mrs. Holderman has a small garden of tulips planted in rows which has flourished year after year. The bulbs multiply for her. And the flowers, while not grade "A" specimen blooms, are beautiful long stem blossoms that most of us would be mighty proud to have.

MRS. Holderman started out with three dozen tulip bulbs. She recalls she started with Rev. Eubank, Pride of Harlem and one other variety. Within the next few years she added some yellow and white varieties. This was at least 20 years ago.

Her bulbs have continued to multiply year after year and she was able to give neighbors and friends many tulips to plant in their yards.

Mrs. Holderman had no idea what the secret of her success was. When she moved to her present home years ago, the backyard was a sort of sinkhole because the clay for the bricks of Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church had been taken from that spot.

She filled the low place with brick bats, soil hauled in from the farm, coal ashes and compost. Mrs. Holderman is a firm believer in compost.

Then she recalls she planted her tulips about six inches deep. She tried to divide them every three years. The tulip garden was planted in vegetables during the summer. That was all there was to it.

Giving the matter thought, she believes her luck may have been due to good draining, lots of sun and composting. Her vegetables and annuals always did well, too.

Last year Mrs. Holderman's daughter, Mildred, decided to spade up the tulips. The tulips evidently decided differently because there is quite a tulip garden there now.

The frenzy reached a point where horses and carriages and even houses and lots were exchanged for a single tulip. When suddenly the bottom dropped out of the market the government tried to stop the debacle but with no success. The rich became poor and the poor destitute.

Eventually the market returned to normal and today a large portion of the Netherlands economy is based on bulb culture. Hundreds of thousands of tourists visit the bulb fields in the Haarlem area each spring to see the blooms.

Other perennials can be mingled with them, such as daylilies, to give pleasing effect, while evergreens can supply winter color.

TULIP TIME IN HOLLAND — Holland, Michigan, that is! Townspeople in this city invite you to a really outstanding flower festival, now in its 29th year. Hollanders, young and old alike, enjoy the festival as much as the thousands of visitors who stream into town for the occasion.

A Good Time Is Had by All in Annual May Tulip Festival in Holland, Mich.

The City of Holland, Mich. is announcing its 29th annual Tulip Festival for May 14-15-16-17. The date is not subject to change. "Tulip Lane" (six miles of tulip plantings) will be in full bloom.

The Klompen Dancers in Dutch costume and wooden shoes will do authentic Dutch Folk dances.

There will be daily parades. The music and drama departments of Hope College will present the musical "The Red Mill", with its Victor Herbert melodies.

There will be a band review and the elimination contest for national baton twirlers.

EACH MORNING at 10, the townspeople in costume have their sidewalk scrubbing, an event in itself.

The Holland Garden Club will present a flower show May 14 entitled "Stars and Gardens".

All in all it's a great event which takes endless "behind the scene" planning.

The Municipal Park Department plants hundreds of thousands of tulips along "Tulip Lane". Home economics and physical education instructors train dancers and make costumes for the entertainment.

The city street department erects bleachers and curbing seats for the parades.

MERCHANTS plan the street scrubbing by the citizenry.

Everybody in Holland has a hand in the festival. Tulip time's a great time in Holland, Mich.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Sterling Poling, Route 4, Circleville, has a theory on when to look for mushrooms and its backed by the late Louis Bromfield. The theory is that the mushrooms will pop out on the third warm day after a big rain.

Ever see a paw-paw tree in bloom? Blenn Bales has one in his backyard. You can't miss it if you use the parking lot at the Children's Shop. You'll see a paw-paw tree on the line fence. Paw-paw blossoms look like little maroon bells hanging on the twigs.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High St., has a Chinese fern peony blooming in her garden. The foliage is fine cut and lacy-a lot like cosmos foliage. The blossoms are single, dark red and not more than two inches in diameter. Mrs. King says the blossoms are frequently caught by early frost.

Speaking of early frost, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, N. Pickaway St., says that old time farmers always told her that if lilacs were frosted it meant a poor fruit crop.

Mrs. Eagleson, who went to Holland, Mich., about three years ago for the tulip festival, says it really is an interesting event. Not only are the tulips colorful, but the dancing is wonderful. She said the street scrubbing ended in a hilarious free-for-all.

Gunner Musselman, Collins Court was probably the last person in Circleville to plant his tulips. He planted them towards the end of December. Dilly-dalliers next year will be glad to know he has had excellent results. (Editor's Note: It is reported that Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, The Herald Garden Editor, planted her bulbs even later than Musselman. Her progress has not been forth coming.)

Rev. Charles Reed, N. Court St., has one of the biggest flowering crabs in Circleville. It is an outstanding variety with dark pink blossoms. The Jim Moffitt, E. Franklin St., have a beautiful specimen of the same variety.

Reed Masse, landscape architect at Adena said that the notes at Adena preferred his tulip planting to any other part of the 400 acre estate. The second year only about 30 per cent of his tulips appeared. Since it's a display garden they now plant new tulip bulbs at Adena each year.

Inez Robb, New York Columnist, stopped in Amsterdam en route to the World's Fair at Brussels. The Dutch are displaying a tulip known as the Glory of Holland in a greenhouse that covers 1-3 of an acre. According to Inez this tulip is as big as an ordinary head of cabbage with individual petals that measure 10 and 12 inches in length.

Mrs. Donald Watt, N. Court St., has millions of violas blooming on the hillside of her garden. The Circleville Garden Club will sell viola plants at their Iris show May 16-17.

Persons who happen to be in Columbus May 15 are invited to visit the Cardiff Garden Club Flower Show. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Penn Jones, 1911 Lower Chelsea. This is the first show the club has sponsored for members.

Park of Roses Horticulturist

There are many insects and diseases which may attack your roses. You must spray or dust at regular intervals.

It will be largely a matter of personal preference whether you spray or dust, as both give adequate control.

Many statements have been made by different people about spraying such as the following: "You cannot spray when the wind is blowing." "Avoid spraying in the hot part of the day." "Do not spray in the evening because plants do not dry quickly enough and the danger of burning is increased."

I would not have you disbelieve these statements as they do have merit. However, the essential thing is to get a thorough job done at regular intervals.

IT IS better to spray in the hot part of the day than to put it off until next week. Insects and diseases attack both sides of the leaves, so it is necessary to cover both side with spray material.

For a few plants, dusting is more practical than spraying. The duster is always ready for use, therefore, leading to less procrastination. Dusting should be done when the air is still. Both sides of the leaves must be covered but Bleeding Hearts, once established, are better off if left alone we understand. They share this characteristic with dictamnus (gas plant).

The Emmitt Barnharts, Northridge Road, have used lilacs to build up and screen the southeast corner of their yard. The lilacs, old-fashioned type, have grown to at least 15 feet. They are white and purple. They are at their loveliest now.

Aphids are usually pale green or pink in color and about 1/8 of an inch in length. They cause malformation of young leaves and buds by sucking plant liquids from them. Aphids or plant lice, as they are sometimes called, have soft bodies and are killed with contact insecticides. Nicotine sulphate, lindane and malathion have proved successful in the control of aphids.

Red Spider mites are tiny, eight-legged creatures found feeding on the underside of the leaf. They can hardly be seen without the aid of a hand lens. Red Spider is most prevalent in hot weather.

Leaves infected with Red Spider show a grayish cast and yellow stippling. Later, they may turn brown and drop. Ovatror has proved effective in the control of Red Spider at the Park of Roses.

THRIPS are about 1-16th of an inch in length and are easily found in fully opened flowers where they scurry among the petals. If they are present in sufficient numbers buds will develop into misshapen flowers.

This is commonly referred to as "balling of roses." When the buds are ready to open the outer petals turn brown and the entire bud rots. Lindane and malathion are effective in treatment of Thrip provided the spray material gets into the bud.

Injury from leafhoppers is restricted to foliage. The affected leaf develops a grayish, mottled appearance. Leafhoppers are seen readily when the plants are shaken as they hop from leaf to leaf. DDT and malathion have proved effective in control of leafhopper at the Park of Roses.

Black spot is the most serious disease of roses. It is caused by a fungus plant (Diplocarpon rosae) and is easily recognized by a very definite black spot. The spots vary in size but are usually round. A quarter inch spot may contain 30 to 40 thousand spores which then cause another spot. These spores germinate when the leaves are wet and are splashed from leaf to leaf by rain.

Fermate or sulphur may be used in a dust or spray to control black spot. Start in early spring when leaves first begin to appear and spray or dust once each week throughout the summer.

Captan, a relatively new product, was used last year at the Park of Roses. This product is an excellent control of black spot when used as a spray.

MILDEW will appear on the young leaves and buds as a grayish, powdery mold. The leaves will become crinkled and, in severe cases, may drop.

The spore of this fungus spread and germinate under conditions of high humidity rather than the presence of moisture. The disease is sometimes very persistent when humidity remains high for any long period of time. Sulphur and icathane are being used to control mildew.

At the Park of Roses we spray every week regardless of whether it rains.

KINGWOOD CENTER — The first two weeks in May are designated as tulip time at Kingwood Center, Mansfield. If you're interested in tulips, a visit to Mansfield at this time is a "must".

Kingwood Florist Praises All Tulips

Carlton B. Lees, Kingwood Center horticulturist, says that if you want a spectacular, foolproof, almost indestructible flower of every imaginable color plant tulips. Lees should know because at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, there are 100,000 tulips planted each fall. These bulbs are imported from Dutch bulb growers and visitors by the thousands flock to the center at tulip time every spring.

Lees says a tulip bulb is a whole plant, flowers, leaves, stem and roots—all condensed into a structure, so protective that it is almost impossible to keep it from blooming. "What other plant," he asks, "is a capsule that packs such a wonderful explosion?"

He says if you are a procrastinating gardener you may plant them as late as December and January.

BECAUSE tulips have such a marvelous range of color, Lees suggests that fanciers visit Kingwood Center where they may learn the names of the tulips and see their striking colors.

After tulips have bloomed, Lees says to cut off the old flower to prevent seed from forming. If the flower stem is cut off just above the topmost leaf it is not too unattractive.

Encourage top growth by keeping the soil moist and sprinkling a complete fertilizer around the plants when they first come up in early spring, he pointed out.

Lees reminds us that leaves are food factories as long as they are green. The longer they remain green the more food will be produced and the better will be the flower.

Lees suggests that arrangers spare the tulip stem and foliage if they do not plan to use them in the arrangement. He says that it makes little sense cut stem and foliage and throw them away.

"For a good display of tulips don't plan on keeping the bulbs forever," says Lees. "Plant a few new bulbs each year. Leave them in the ground three years and then throw them away. It's not worth while to nurse along second rate bulbs."

It is interesting to know that new bulbs are planted each year at Kingwood Center and the old ones destroyed. These gardens are, of course, for display purposes.

Veteran Gardener Praises Daylilies for Gardens

Mrs. Orion King, 148 W. High St., veteran gardener and iris grower, admits that the more she sees of daylilies the higher is her regard for them.

"Of course," says Mrs. King, "they are not so good for arrangements because they only last one day. But they are an excellent garden plant."

Mrs. King has a large collection of hermocallis and intends to increase the number of her varieties. Many other Pickaway County gardeners are fast becoming daylily fanciers.

Frank McVickers of the Williamsport community, we have been told, is regarded as an authority in the layly category.

IN FACT the gardening world in recent years has witnessed a spectacular rise in the popularity of daylilies.

Formerly only a healthy weed, today the daylily is a prized garden possession, available in an infinite number of varieties and colors.

The current issue of Flower and Garden magazine carries a forum giving complete information on the planting, cultivation and care of daylilies, showing how the different varieties are best used in landscaping.

Preferred planting seasons for these hardy perennials are spring and fall, covering the light green line above the roots with one or two inches of soil and spacing plants two or three feet apart.

Low-growing sorts such as Baronet, Red Token and Purple Haze can be placed in front of borders, as edgings for taller plants or as pool-side plantings.

The medium-sized group, which includes the bulk of varieties, can be grown almost anywhere. There are taller plants for service areas and near walls and fences.

SEVERAL established and reliable varieties that are proved favorites with daylily growers are named in Flower and Garden.

These include Hesperus, Potentilla, Ruffled Pinafore and Colonial Dame. Also listed are a number of evening blooming varieties that are in full flower from late afternoon to mid-morning such as Royal Ruby and Yellowstone.

Tulips Noted In History

The Turks had a name for it. They called it "lale." But the Dutch got themselves confused about the name.

Supposedly, a Turkish sailor in the late 16th century smuggled in some bulbs in his turban. He called his headgear "tulipan." So, some good Hollanders called the tulips "tulpen." This was the plural form.

The singular is "tulip" which they pronounce as two syllables making it sound like "tulip." What should have been something akin to "lily," became "tulip" in English.

Less than a half century later the tulip almost upset the entire economy of the Netherlands. The Dutch were in the period of their "Great Glory," as their historians put it. They led the world not only in exploration and commerce but in the arts as well.

IN 1636 the staid burghers succumbed to a mass hysteria that has since been referred to as their "Great Folly."

They went literally wild about tu-

Kingston Lady Is Gifted with Tulip Luck

Mrs. Carrie Holderman, one of Kingston's old time gardeners with a reputation for a green thumb, was perfectly willing to discuss her success with tulips.

Mrs. Holderman can no longer take an active part in garden work because she is confined to her chair indoors. But her interest in flowers is as keen as it ever was.

Most people, no matter how much they love tulips, admit that tulips "play out" in just a few years. What was an impressive tulip planting one year may be a quite forlorn planting the next.

But Mrs. Holderman has a small garden of tulips planted in rows which has flourished year after year. The bulbs multiply for her. And the flowers, while not grade "A" specimen blooms, are beautiful long stem blossoms that most of us would be mighty proud to have.

MRS. Holderman started out with three dozen tulip bulbs. She recalls she started with Rev. Eubank, Pride of Harlem and one other variety. Within the next few years she added some yellow and white varieties. This was at least 20 years ago.

Her bulbs have continued to multiply year after year and she was able to give neighbors and friends many tulips to plant in their yards.

Mrs. Holderman had no idea what the secret of her success was. When she moved to her present home years ago, the backyard was a sort of sinkhole because the clay for the bricks of Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church had been taken from that spot.

She filled the low place with brick bats, soil hauled in from the farm, coal ashes and compost. Mrs. Holderman is a firm believer in compost.

Then she recalls she planted her tulips about six inches deep. She tried to divide them every three years. The tulip garden was planted in vegetables during the summer. That was all there was to it.

Giving the matter thought, she believes her luck may have been due to good draining, lots of sun and composting. Her vegetables and annuals always did well, too.

Last year Mrs. Holderman's daughter, Mildred, decided to spade up the tulips. The tulips evidently decided differently because there is quite a tulip garden there now.

lip bulbs. Scarce specimens were in such demand that thousands of guilders were paid for one small bulb.

The frenzy reached a point where horses and carriages and even houses and lots were exchanged for a single tulip. When suddenly the bottom dropped out of the market the government tried to stop the debacle but with no success. The rich became poor and the poor destitute.

Eventually the market returned to normal and today a large portion of the Netherlands economy is based on bulb culture. Hundreds of thousands of tourists visit the bulb fields in the Haarlem area each spring to see the blooms.

Persons who happen to be in Columbus May 15 are invited to visit the Cardiff Garden Club Flower Show. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Penn Jones, 1911 Lower Chelsea. This is the first show the club has sponsored for members.

Strawberries should be top dressed with a complete fertilizer and lightly mulched with straw before the plants begin to bear.

TULIP TIME IN HOLLAND — Holland, Michigan, that is! Townspeople in this city invite you to a really outstanding flower festival, now in its 29th year. Hollanders, young and old alike, enjoy the festival as much as the thousands of visitors who stream into town for the occasion.

A Good Time Is Had by All in Annual May Tulip Festival in Holland, Mich.

The City of Holland, Mich. is announcing its 29th annual Tulip Festival for May 14-15-16-17. The date is not subject to change. "Tulip Lane" (six miles of tulip plantings) will be in full bloom.

The Klompen Dancers in Dutch costume and wooden shoes will do authentic Dutch Folk dances.

There will be daily parades. The music and drama departments of Hope College will present the musical "The Red Mill", with its Victor Herbert melodies.

There will be a band review and the elimination contest for national baton twirlers.

EACH MORNING at 10, the townspeople in costume have their sidewalk scrubbing, an event in itself.

The Holland Garden Club will present a flower show May 14 entitled "Stars and Gardens".

All in all it's a great event which takes endless "behind the scene" planning.

The Municipal Park Department plants hundreds of thousands of tulips along "Tulip Lane". Home economics and physical education instructors train dancers and make costumes for the entertainment.

The city street department erects bleachers and curbing seats for the parades.

MERCHANTS plan the street scrubbing by the citizenry.

Everybody in Holland has a hand in the festival. Tulip time's a great time in Holland, Mich.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Sterling Poling, Route 4, Circleville, has a theory on when to look for mushrooms and is backed by the late Louis Bromfield. The theory is that the mushrooms will pop out on the third warm day after a big rain.

Ever see a paw-paw tree in bloom? Blenn Bales has one in his backyard. You can't miss it if you use the parking lot at the Children's Shop. You'll see a paw-paw tree on the line fence. Paw-paw blossoms look like little maroon bells hanging on the twigs.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High St., has a Chinese fern peony blooming in her garden. The foliage is fine cut and lacy-a lot like cosmos foliage. The blossoms are single, dark red and not more than two inches in diameter. Mrs. King says the blossoms are frequently caught by early frost.

Speaking of early frost, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, N. Pickaway St., says that old time farmers always told her that if lilacs were frosted it meant a poor fruit crop.

Mrs. Eagleson, who went to Holland, Mich., about three years ago for the tulip festival, says it really is an interesting event. Not only are the tulips colorful, but the dancing is wonderful. She said the street scrubbing ended in a hilarious free-for-all.

Gunner Musselman, Collins Court was probably the last person in Circleville to plant his tulips. He planted them towards the end of December. Dilly-daylilies next year will be glad to know he has had excellent results. (Editor's Note: It is reported that Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, The Herald Garden Editor, planted her bulbs even later than Musselman. Her progress has not been forth coming.)

Rev. Charles Reed, N. Court St., has one of the biggest flowering crab in Circleville. It is an outstanding variety with dark pink blossoms. The Jim Moffitts, E. Franklin St., have a beautiful specimen of the same variety.

Reed Massey, landscape architect at Adena said that the moles at Adena preferred his tulip planting to any other part of the 400 acre estate. The second year only about 30 per cent of his tulips appeared. Since it's a display garden they now plant new tulip bulbs at Adena each year.

Inez Robb, New York Columnist, stopped in Amsterdam en route to the World's Fair at Brussels. The Dutch are displaying a tulip known as the Glory of Holland in a greenhouse that covers 1-3 of an acre. According to Inez this tulip is as big as an ordinary head of cabbage with individual petals that measure 10 and 12 inches in length.

Mrs. Donald Watt, N. Court St., has millions of violas blooming on the hillside of her garden. The Circleville Garden Club will sell viola plants at their iris show May 16-17.

Persons who happen to be in Columbus May 15 are invited to visit the Cardiff Garden Club Flower Show. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Penn Jones, 1911 Lower Chelsea. This is the first show the club has sponsored for members.

Franks Names Rose Pests, Advises Best Treatment

By FOSTER FRANKS
Park of Roses Horticulturist

There are many insects and diseases which may attack your roses. You must spray or dust at regular intervals.

It will be largely a matter of personal preference whether you spray or dust, as both give adequate control.

Many statements have been made by different people about spraying such as the following: "You cannot spray when the wind is blowing." "Avoid spraying in the hot part of the day." "Do not spray in the evening because plants do not dry quickly enough and the danger of burning is increased."

I would not have you disbelieve these statements as they do have merit. However, the essential thing is to get a thorough job done at regular intervals.

IT IS better to spray in the hot part of the day than to put it off until next week. Insects and diseases attack both sides of the leaves, so it is necessary to cover both side with spray material.

For a few plants, dusting is more practical than spraying. The duster is always ready for use, therefore, leading to less procrastination. Dusting should be done when the air is still. Both sides of the leaves must be covered but

Yes the bleeding heart clump is still flourishing on the east side of the Adrian Yates' home. To our knowledge the clump has been there for 25 years and it could well be half a century old. Bleeding Hearts, once established, are better off if left alone we understand. They share this characteristic with dictamnus (gas plant).

The Emmitt Barnharts, Northridge Road, have used lilacs to build up and screen the southeast corner of their yard. The lilacs, old-fashioned type, have grown to at least 15 feet. They are white and purple. They are at their loveliest now.

The garden of Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, Pinckney St., is just about at its prettiest now. The early blooming rock plants are in full color. If you are planning to visit this lovely garden, now is a good time. However, it will be blooming all through May and June.

only very lightly. Dusting can be done when the plants are wet or dry with good results. A more uniform coverage is obtained when the plants are dry.

Aphids are usually pale green or pink in color and about 1/8 of an inch in length. They cause malformation of young leaves and buds by sucking plant liquids from them. Aphids or plant lice, as they are sometimes called, have soft bodies and are killed with contact insecticides. Nicotine sulphate, lindane and malathione have proved successful in the control of aphids.
